

IAFS Honors Program

“Participating in the IAFS Honors Program not only opened my eyes to high level academic writing and the importance of perseverance but also provided a supportive and fun environment to grow. I encourage anyone who is remotely interested in the thesis to join the cohort!

Mikayla Jassem (IAFS & THTR, 2024)

”

More info

www.colorado.edu/iafs/academics/honors

Why write an Honors Thesis?

- Graduate with departmental honors
- Stand out from other job applicants
- Opportunity to get published
- Valuable preparation for graduate school
- Research can be practical and life-changing

About the IAFS Honors Program

- Earn up to 6 credits for your thesis research, writing, and defense
- Fulfills IAFS Senior Seminar requirement
- Fall: IAFS 4800: Honors Seminar - learn research methodology and develop your project
- Spring: IAFS 4810: Honors in IAFS - complete your research and write and defend your thesis

Before You Apply

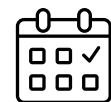

Be ready to:

- Draft a research topic
- Create a preliminary bibliography
- Connect with a thesis advisor

Application Requirements

- 3.3+ overall GPA
- 3.4+ GPA in IAFS courses
- 90+ credits completed

When to Apply

One academic year before graduation

Ex: Spring/Fall 2027 grads apply by March 2026

IAFS Honors Program Director

Prof. Molly Todd - Molly.Todd@colorado.edu