

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS MAJOR

Explore the fundamental concepts of International Affairs through IAFS 1000: Global Issues and International Affairs. Then, increase your knowledge by taking upper division courses that focus on four Functional Areas. Gain tangible and applicable skills through Economics and Research Methods courses.

By focusing on a specific region of the world outside the United States through a Geographic Concentration, you will become proficient in a related World Language as well as the region's history, literature, culture, and politics.

Apply your education through an Off-Campus Experience such as study abroad or an internship and finish with a capstone project in the IAFS Senior Seminar.

Looking for more?

Gain experience through the IAFS Honors Program & Mentorship Program.

Studying abroad?

Apply for a Global Grant, a scholarship for eligible IAFS students.

Questions?

Reach out to your advisor or email iafs@colorado.edu.

Geographic Concentrations

- Africa/Middle East
- Asia
- Europe/Eurasia
- Latin America

Functional Areas

- Development & Culture
- International Economics, Business, & Political Economy
- Political Geography, International Security, & Foreign Policy
- International Institutions, Rights, & Norms

Learn About the IAFS Major

49-51
credits

How to Declare
Major/Minor

International Affairs Program
UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER