

2018-2019 Scholarship Programs

The Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation has two Scholarship Programs consisting of the Joe Rudd Scholarships, established in 1979 in honor of a prominent natural resources attorney in Alaska, and the RMMLF Scholarships, established in 1993. One RMMLF Scholarship award is named the “David P. Phillips Scholarship” in honor of the Foundation’s Executive Director who retired in 2012 after leading the Foundation for 42 years.

Over $2.7 million has been awarded to 519 scholars.

Eligibility

A law student enrolled full time at one of the Foundation’s Constituent Law Schools listed below and who can demonstrate a commitment to the study of natural resources law is eligible to apply for these scholarships. LLM Students and incoming 1Ls: If you have applied to one of these schools, but have not yet been accepted, you may still apply for a scholarship.

Amount of Scholarships

Fall 2018, Spring 2019, or full-year 2018–2019 scholarships may cover partial or full tuition. Recent awards ranged from $1,000 to $10,500. These tuition scholarships must be used at, and will be paid directly to, one of the Constituent Law Schools listed below.

Application Process

Download the application form at www.rmmlf.org under the Professors & Students tab. The form is available in Word format or in PDF format. The completed application form and supporting documents must be emailed to scholarships@rmmlf.org by the appropriate application deadline below.

Applications will be evaluated by the Foundation and Joe Rudd Scholarships Committees according to an established set of criteria that include:

- Potential to make a significant contribution to the field of natural resources law
- Academic ability
- Leadership ability
- Year in law school
- Financial need

Application Deadlines:

JD Applicants – February 28, 2018
LLM/SJD Applicants – March 15, 2018

ABOUT THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN MINERAL LAW FOUNDATION

Organized in 1955, the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation is a collaborative, educational, nonprofit organization that fosters the scholarly and practical study of the law concerning oil and gas, mining, energy, water, public lands, environmental protection, and related areas of natural resources law. For more information, visit www.rmmlf.org.

CONSTITUENT LAW SCHOOLS

University of Alberta
University of Arizona
Arizona State University
Brigham Young University
University of Calgary
University of California–Davis
University of Colorado
Creighton University

University of Denver
Florida State University
Gonzaga University
University of Houston
University of Idaho
University of Kansas
Lewis and Clark
Louisiana State University

University of Montana
University of Nebraska
University of Nevada–Las Vegas
University of New Mexico
University of North Dakota
University of Oklahoma
University of the Pacific–McGeorge
University of South Dakota

Southern Methodist University
Texas A&M University
Texas Tech University
University of Texas
University of Tulsa
University of Utah
Washburn University
University of Wyoming

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation 9191 Sheridan Blvd., Ste. 203, Westminster, CO 80031 USA
Tel (303) 321-8100 x 107 | www.rmmlf.org | scholarships@rmmlf.org