Statement of Purpose and Editorial Policy

The Colorado Natural Resources, Energy & Environmental Law Review is a student edited academic legal journal dedicated to natural resources, energy, and environmental law and policy at the local, regional, and global scales. The Journal was formerly known as the Colorado Journal of International Environmental Law & Policy and we continue to publish articles that fall within the scope of our former title. We aim to publish at least one feature article that discusses an aspect of international environmental law and/or policy in each issue.

The Environmental Law Review is interested in articles submitted by authors that fall within this stated purpose. Authors uncertain whether their article is suitable for publication are encouraged to contact the Editor-in-Chief to discuss the subject matter of their article.

Articles or other materials from authors may be accepted for publication prior to undergoing any editorial modifications. Such materials may also be conditionally accepted with the understanding that the author will undertake major modifications prior to publication. Where appropriate, papers may be reviewed by experts within the relevant field to aid the Environmental Law Review's publication decisions and editing processes. Editors will work with authors to refine the written product throughout the publication process, with the overall objective being to enhance the effectiveness of written communication.

Views expressed in the Environmental Law Review are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of the Environmental Law Review's Editors or Staff.
