

Janielle,

From the moment you were born, you've brought so much joy. I was too young to "get it" at the time, but even then it was a very special feeling to have you in our lives. Fast forward 22 years and I've had the opportunity to reflect on why that's the case. Your tireless and unapologetic pursuit of your interests, and your willingness to stick through difficult situations is not only the reason you've gotten to where you are today, it's just a couple of many reasons why we've loved having you a part of our lives. Thank you for blessing us with your love and passion, and congratulations on your special accomplishments, which in many ways are the culmination of these same qualities. As we've discussed many times before, this is just the beginning for you, and I'm looking forward to continuing to watch and participate in your growth as an amazing young woman.

Much love,

Big Brother