

PSCI 3022: Russian Politics

Spring 2018, Tuesdays & Thursday, 12:30-1:45pm, Arnett Hall N200

Professor Sokhey

Office: Ketchum Hall 133 (Ketchum is located between Norlin Library and Atlas)
E-mail: sokheys@colorado.edu
Office hours: Tuesdays & Thursdays, 3:30-5pm in Ketchum & by appointment*
GRAP Fellow: Kevin Vick (kevin.vick@colorado.edu), hours on Mon. 5-7pm, Arnett N-207

*I am happy to arrange meetings outside of my scheduled office hours as the time above are not likely to accommodate all students. You are always free to stop by my office outside of these hours, or to arrange another specific time to meet. Tuesday and Thursday mornings are also a good time to stop by.

I cannot forecast to you the action of Russia. It is a riddle, wrapped in a mystery, inside an enigma.
~ Winston Churchill, October 1939 ~

Russia's remaining defects are typical of countries at its level of economic development... Russia is quite normal.
~ Andrei Shleifer and Daniel Treisman, 2005 ~

Is Russia an enigma or a normal country? We'll find out by talking about Russia's transition to democracy and the market in the 1990s, slide into authoritarianism in the 2000s, and its role in the international community. Welcome to Russian Politics!

Requirements

Your course grade will be based on the following criteria:

2 Midterm Exams	60% (30% each)
Final Exam	15%
Participation (Get a Clicker!)	15%
Geography Quiz	5%
Current Events Discussion on D2L	5%
Optional Research Paper Extra Credit	worth 20% and each midterm will be worth 20% see more information below

Exams (75% of your total grade)

There will be 2 midterm exams and 1 final exam. The two midterm exams will consist of multiple choice, identification, and short answer questions. I will provide more information in class on what you should expect on the exams. The midterm exams are not cumulative. On the final exam, you will be asked to answer 1 long essay question. This question will focus on the big questions we have focused on from week 13 onwards, but will also ask you to draw on information from the first part of the course.

Participation: Get a CU Clicker! (15%)

You will be required to use a CU Clicker for some in-class assignments and quizzes. Your participation grade will be based on reading quizzes and in-class assignments. There are no make-ups for the reading quizzes and in-class assignment because they are specifically intended to evaluate your participation in class. There will, however, be many of these throughout the semester (usually at least 1 a week, or more) so that missing just a few will not have a large negative impact on your grade. If you miss many of these, then there will be, of course, a larger impact on your final grade.

Geography Quiz (5%)

There will be a geography quiz at the end of week 2 which tests your knowledge of the relevant countries, country capitals, and major geographic features.

Current Events Discussion on D2L (5%)

Keeping up with current events is an important part of our class. I will post articles on D2L with current relevant news. On the class schedule on the syllabus, I have marked the days of class for which you should read or comment on these articles. Typically, I will post an article on Tuesday which you should read and comment on by Thursday (there are some exceptions—be sure to follow the class schedule below). A discussion board will be created on D2L. You are required to: 1) make 1 relevant comment about the articles, and 2) respond to 1 comment from someone else. Your comments should be relevant and reflect that you have read the articles. Please be polite in your comments and responses to others.

Current Affairs: Read the News!

Current affairs will be regularly incorporated into class. In addition to the articles you are required to read and comment on, you should regularly look for news on current affairs in Russia. New stories that are covered in class will be covered on exams. Some good non-American news sources about Russia include:

- Johnson's Russia List: This is an excellent way to read articles (in English) about what is going on in Russia from a variety of Russian, international, and American news sources. You can sign up for free daily news from Russian and international news sources from "Johnson's Russia List" at russialist.org. You can also just check this website instead of receiving the stories by e-mail.

Johnson's Russia List includes articles from major news sources around the world and Russian newspapers. Russian-language articles have been translated into English which is a great advantage of this free service.

- BBC: The "Europe" web page of the BBC for news on Russia which can be found at: <http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/world/europe/>. Scan the BBC headlines for news on Russia and read any relevant articles. You can also search "Russia" from the BBC web page to find the most relevant news.
- RT: Formerly called Russia Today, RT is available at www.rt.com (click on the Russian Politics section). This is a Russian state-owned news sources which provides news in English. In particular, you should note how the perspective is the same or different for reporting on the same events when reading the BBC versus Russia Today. It is also interesting to take a look at US news reported in Russia Today at www.rt.com/usa.
- PONARS Eurasia: At www.ponarseurasia.org, you can find regularly find new commentary from academic experts about current events in Russia and other post-communist countries.
- Public Opinion Polls: Check out Putin's approval ratings, and other important results of national polls (including attitudes towards the US) at Levada (a private polling company) (<http://www.levada.ru/en/>) and at the Russian Public Opinion Research center (a state-owned polling organization) (<https://www.wciom.com/>). Both have English versions of their websites.

Optional Research Paper

You have the option to submit an 8-10 page research paper. If you are interested in this option, come talk to me and I will provide you with more detailed information. If you choose to write a research paper, your research paper will be worth 20% of your final grade and each midterm will be worth 20% of your final grade. You will be asked to submit your paper on D2L by Thursday, April 26. You should keep in mind that the penalty for plagiarism in this course is failing the course. Don't plagiarize.

Extra Credit

There is one opportunity for extra credit in this course. On the course schedule below, you will notice that there are occasionally recommended readings. These readings are not mandatory, but are interesting additional sources which are available if you are interested and may be helpful for your course paper. If you are especially interested in a topic on the syllabus for which there are not recommended readings, please let me know and I may be able to recommend readings for extra credit. Some optional extra credit readings will be available on D2L.

You should complete a recommended reading and write a two-page summary which: 1) briefly summarizes the content of the reading, and 2) gives your reaction & thoughts about the reading. Your response paper should relate to what we are covering in the course. You may complete 2 recommended readings for extra credit. Each recommended reading response you complete is worth 2 points on your final grade. You may only receive 1 extra credit point if the response paper does not summarize the reading correctly or does not give your reaction to the reading. To receive extra credit, you must submit an extra credit response paper on D2L by the final day of class. Please do not submit paper copies of your extra credit. I cannot promise that paper copies will be counted for extra credit. Instead, upload your extra credit in the appropriate folder on D2L.

Required Books

Much of the required reading will be available electronically on the D2L website for our course.

The required books for this course are the following:

- 1) Thomas Remington, Politics in Russia, 7th edition, Pearson/Longman or Routledge, ISBN: 978-0-205-00579-6
- 2) Timothy Frye, Building States and Markets after Communism: The Perils of Polarized Democracy, Cambridge University Press, 2010, ISBN: 978-0-521-73462-2.

Recommended, but not required (should be cheap to purchase online):

- 3) Mary McAuley, Soviet Politics. 1917-1991, 1991, ISBN: 978-0-19-878067

Note about cost & buying books

The Remington book is most important and you need it beginning in week 1. Used copies of Remington are fine, but make sure you get the 7th edition published by Pearson/Longman or Routledge. Amazon also has rental options for the Remington book. New paperback copies of the Frye book should be about $25 and used copies should be a bit cheaper. The McAuley book is a short paperback and there should be affordable used copies available online.

Copies of the Remington, Frye, and McAuley books are also on reserve at Norlin Library and can be checked out at the main circulation desk at Norlin.

Contacting Instructor

I am available during my regular office hours. I am happy to make arrangements to meet with you at a time that is more convenient for your schedule. You are also welcome to stop by at other times as I am typically in my office during the day.

A note about e-mail

E-mail is the quickest and easiest way to contact me outside of class and I always make an effort to respond promptly. Although e-mail is an easy and convenient form of correspondence, you should think of e-mails to any of your instructors as professional correspondence. This means that your message should adhere to norms of academic writing including the use of proper punctuation. You should also avoid slang and excessive use of abbreviations. The better I can understand your e-mail, the better I am able to help you in a constructive manner. Some questions are best answered in class (because many students will have the same question) or in person during office hours (because they require some explanation) In these cases, I may wait to address your question in class or indicate that we should arrange a time to talk.

Disabilities

If you qualify for accommodations because of a disability, please submit to your professor a letter from Disability Services in a timely manner (for exam accommodations provide your letter at least one week prior to the exam) so that your needs can be addressed. Disability Services determines accommodations based on documented disabilities. Contact Disability Services at 303-492-8671 or by e-mail at dsinfo@colorado.edu. If you have a temporary medical condition or injury, see Temporary Injuries guidelines (<http://www.colorado.edu/disabilityservices/students/temporary-medical-conditions>) under the Quick Links at the Disability Services website (<http://www.colorado.edu/disabilityservices>) and discuss your needs with me.

Religious Observance

Campus policy regarding religious observances requires that faculty make every effort to deal reasonably and fairly with all students who, because of religious obligations, have conflicts with scheduled exams, assignments or required attendance. In this class, requests for special accommodations need to be presented in a timely manner meaning at least one week prior to scheduled exams/assignments. Although I will always try to accommodate requests, I reserve the right to deny requests for accommodations that are requested less than a week before the assignment or exam, or which are made after an assignment or exam.

Classroom Behavior

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. Those who fail to adhere to such behavioral standards may be subject to discipline. Professional courtesy and sensitivity are especially important with respect to individuals and topics dealing with differences of race, color, culture, religion, creed, politics, veteran's status, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and gender expression, age, disability, and nationalities. Class rosters are provided to the instructor with the student's legal name. I will gladly honor your request to address you by an alternate name or gender pronoun. Please advise me of this preference early in the semester so that I may make appropriate changes to my records. For more information, see the policies on classroom behavior (<http://www.colorado.edu/policies/student-classroom-and-course-related-behavior>) and the student code (http://www.colorado.edu/osc/sites/default/files/attached-files/studentconductcode_15-16.pdf).

Discrimination and Harassment

The University of Colorado Boulder (CU-Boulder) is committed to maintaining a positive learning, working, and living environment. CU-Boulder will not tolerate acts of sexual misconduct, discrimination, harassment or related retaliation against or by any employee or student. CU's Sexual Misconduct Policy prohibits sexual assault, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment, intimate partner abuse (dating or domestic violence), stalking or related retaliation. CU-Boulder's Discrimination and Harassment Policy prohibits discrimination, harassment or related retaliation based on race, color, national origin, sex, pregnancy, age, disability, creed, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, veteran status, political affiliation or political philosophy. Individuals who believe they have been subject to misconduct under either policy should contact the Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance (OIEC) at 303-492-2127. Information about the OIEC, the above referenced policies, and the campus resources available to assist individuals regarding sexual misconduct, discrimination, harassment or related retaliation can be found at the OIEC website (<http://www.colorado.edu/institutionalequity>).

Academic Honesty & Student Conduct

All students enrolled in a University of Colorado Boulder course are responsible for knowing and adhering to the academic integrity policy (<http://www.colorado.edu/policies/academic-integrity-policy>) of the institution. Violations of the policy may include: plagiarism, cheating, fabrication, lying, bribery, threat, unauthorized access, clicker fraud, resubmission, and aiding academic dishonesty. All incidents of academic misconduct will be reported to the Honor Code Council (honor@colorado.edu; 303-735-2273). Students who are found responsible of violating the academic integrity policy will be subject to nonacademic sanctions from the Honor Code Council as well as academic sanctions from the faculty member. Additional information regarding the academic integrity policy can be found at <http://honorcode.colorado.edu>.

All of the work you do in this course is expected to be your own and should not be work you have submitted in any other course. No cheating or plagiarism (using someone else's words or ideas without proper attribution) will be tolerated. Any cases of cheating or plagiarism will be handled according to university policy and reported to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If I find that you have plagiarized, you will fail the course. Plagiarism does not only include lifting text verbatim from another source and using it as your own, but includes paraphrasing a work and not properly citing it in your paper (i.e., using an idea or argument without proper attribution).

When considering whether or not to plagiarize, consider whether you are willing to fail the course and possibly face other university sanctions for doing so. If you are having difficulty completing course assignments, consider alternatives to cheating including contacting me (or your other instructors) for help.

The consequences of turning in a poorly done assignment, or not turning in an assignment at all, are much less severe than plagiarizing.

Extensions & Make-ups

As a general rule, I will not grant any extensions or make-ups. All deadlines have been clearly marked on the course schedule and you should make note of them. In case of extreme emergency (such as serious illness), extensions and make-ups must be discussed with the instructor individually and will be arranged on a case-by-case basis contingent on proper documentation of any incident preventing the student from meeting the deadline.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Assignments should be submitted in class, not via e-mail or left in my mailbox in the political science department. If extenuating circumstances require you to submit your assignment by e-mail or by leaving it in my mailbox, it is your responsibility to make sure I get it. You should be sure to get confirmation that I have received your assignment in this case.

Grading

I will use the following scale in assessing grades:

A	94+	C+	77-79	F	59 and below
A-	90-93	C	74-76
B+	87-89	C-	70-73
B	84-86	D+	67-69
B-	80-83	D-	60-66

Course Schedule

Note: All reading is required unless otherwise noted. Readings that are not available from the required books will be posted on the D2L website as indicated below. Please let me know prior to class if you have difficulty accessing any of the readings. Recommended readings can be completed for extra credit (see details above under “Extra Credit”).

Week 1	Tuesday, Jan. 16	Introduction: Why Study Russian Politics?
