

Passacaglia in E Minor

Augusta G. McSwain

Notes on the score:

This score is a reconstructed and typeset version of a photocopy of the manuscript score of Passacaglia in E Minor by Augusta G. McSwain. The source is part of the Walker-Hill Collection of the American Music Research Center at the University of Colorado Boulder.

Several issues arose in attempting to transcribe this work from its manuscript. In the photocopy, several lines of music are missing and the ends of some measures truncated. I have engraved the score in a notation software to the best of my ability. Fortunately, the repetitive nature of this piece allows for one to reasonably infer most of the missing material by referencing other identical passages. Some material, however, could not be recovered. The following alterations and additions were made:

1. Measures 37-39 contain the left hand material that appears to be missing in measures 32-35 where the right hand and time signature is identical. I have pasted the left hand material from measures 37-39 onto their corresponding measures.
2. Some missing notes must be guessed, as the material surrounding the missing notes bear no resemblance to other areas of the score. This was necessary in the following measures:
 - a. M. 16: left hand inferrable, last two right hand eighth notes indecipherable. F# and A added
 - b. M. 40: last 8th note missing. F# added
 - c. M. 81: last two 8th notes of RH indecipherable. E and F# added
3. The low quality of the photocopy further complicates matters. Many ties are almost illegible. Wherever faint lines appear on the photocopied manuscript, I have assumed ties are present. These areas also bear resemblance to identical passages that show clear ties.
4. The manuscript shows an unnumbered measure between 35 and 36, so the final engraving has one more numbered measure.
