

THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER
DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY AND NEUROSCIENCE

ANNOUNCES

THE ANNUAL IMOGENE JACOBS SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITION

The Psychology Department will award a scholarship in the amount of $1000 to a Psychology major who will be a senior in 2014-2015. The award will be based strictly on merit, as reflected in excellent grades, in evidence of research promise, and in various supporting materials.

Applications are due in the Psychology Advising Center (Muenzinger D243) by April 18, 2014. The application packet should include:

1. Resume with both psychology and overall G.P.A.'s, psychology courses taken, volunteer and/or work experience relevant to psychology; research experience in psychology, etc.
2. The application should also contain a one-page statement of the candidate's plan for graduate training, and a subsequent career in psychology.
3. In addition, the applicant should obtain at least two letters of reference from psychology faculty members familiar with the candidate's work.
4. Finally, the applicant should submit a written sample of laboratory or library research in psychology based upon completed or ongoing work.

The Psychology Department Awards Committee will select the recipient. The student will receive the award at the May 2014 Department ceremony for graduating students, which will be held on the evening of Thursday, May 8.

Please turn all materials in to your academic advisor in Muenzinger D243.