

MOMMY'S HOMETOWN

WITH AUTHOR HOPE LIM

A PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
WEBINAR FOR TEACHERS

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2025

7:00-8:00pm ET, live on Zoom

REGISTRATION IS FREE FOR TEACHERS NATIONWIDE

A boy dreams about visiting his mother's hometown after hearing her exciting stories. However, when he arrives it is not what he imagined.

The Program for Teaching East Asia and the Five College Center for East Asian Studies offers a webinar with Hope Lim, author of Mommy's Hometown. Through Hope Lim's storytelling and Jaime Kim's illustrations, this picture book takes the reader on a journey to the past and present in Daejeon, a city in central South Korea.

In this webinar, Hope Lim will speak about her writing process, the powerful intricacies of picturebooks, and her observations of Daejeon over the years. Mommy's Hometown is a NCSS-CBC Notable Children's Trade Book in the Field of Social Studies and Junior Library Guild Gold Standard Selection.

"Lim poignantly explores the tension between new and old in this setting-oriented tribute to family bonds."

-Publishers Weekly

HOPE LIM is a children's book author from South Korea based in California. She is the author of five children's books, two of which are set in South Korea. Her love of language is evident in her skillful articulations of the minds of her young narrators.
