

The Program for Teaching East Asia University of Colorado Boulder

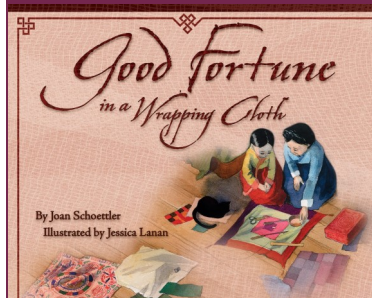

Teaching Korea through Children's Literature Fall 2020 Online Workshop

September 15-October 6, 2020

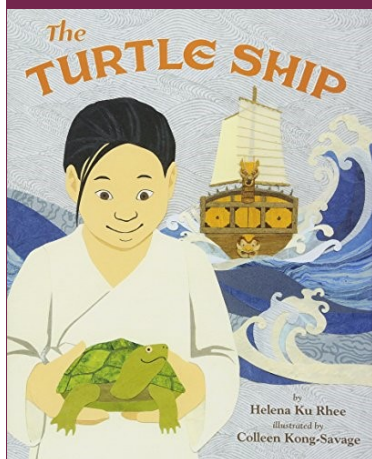

What can children's literature teach us about past and present Korean culture and society? What are some of the cultural meanings and traditions surrounding Korean children's stories? How can folktales and contemporary children's stories from Korea broaden our students' worldview?

Join the Program for Teaching East Asia (TEA) and Korean children's literature specialist, Dr. Dafna Zur (Stanford University) in an online workshop to explore these questions through exemplary children's literature about Korea (including Freeman Award Honorable Mention Books). The program will consider cross-curricular teaching activities for integrating Korea into K-8 literacy and social studies curricula.

Teachers will participate in two synchronous live webinars and one two-week asynchronous online learning module in a program which includes:

- ♦ A presentation on Korean children's literature across the DMZ;
- ♦ Readings and discussion about Korean history, culture, and society, as well as pedagogy for literature-based cultural study; and
- ♦ Networking and sharing teaching ideas with other K-8 teachers.

Open to elementary and middle school teachers nationwide. Participants are responsible for acquiring the three books in advance of the workshop start date. Submission of evaluation and a teaching plan to be shared with fellow participants completes the program.

Participation is free, with the following benefits for full participation:

- ♦ Certificate of Completion for 8 contact hours; and
- ♦ $50 recognition award upon satisfactory completion.

Register online at: www.colorado.edu/ptea/korea-workshop. For more information, contact Catherine Ishida at ishida@colorado.edu.

Registration deadline: Friday, September 11, 2020

This workshop is made possible by a grant from the Consulate General of the Republic of Korea at San Francisco.