THE NATIONAL CONSORTIUM FOR TEACHING ABOUT ASIA AND
THE PROGRAM FOR TEACHING EAST ASIA
UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER

Fall 2018

Korea in the Modern World, Part 1: 1894-1953

A Professional Development Seminar for Secondary Teachers

NCTA at the Program for Teaching East Asia offers Part 1 of a two-part online course for secondary (6-12) teachers nationwide to consider the impacts of imperialism and independence, political-economic and nationalist ideologies, and globalization on the development of Korea, 1894 to the present. In Part 1, participants examine primary and secondary sources which focus on The Great Han Empire, Japanese colonial rule, and the Korean War (1894-1953). To be offered in Winter/Spring 2019, Part 2 will focus on the political, economic, and cultural trajectories of North and South Korea in the globalizing world (1945-present). The seminar will address the World History Content Standards and AP World History Course Guidelines.

Course Format and Expectations: This seminar will be conducted through four asynchronous online modules, each consisting of pertinent readings and/or featured media or video lecture and a participant discussion forum on content and pedagogy. The course begins September 27, 2018, with online introductions. The four modules run October 4-10; October 11-24; October 25 – November 7; and November 8-28 (extended to accommodate Thanksgiving break). A final paper and evaluation will be due December 7, 2018.

Eligibility and Application: Secondary teachers nationwide are invited to apply. Enrollment is limited to 20 teachers; applications will be accepted on a rolling admission basis. Registration closes September 14, 2018, or when course is full. Preference will be given to world history teachers, and, additionally, to contract teachers and teachers who are not taking another fall 2018 TEA-NCTA online course.

Program Costs and Benefits: Participants receive:

- 18 contact hours of study, curriculum, and discussion with Korean studies specialists and fellow educators.
- Course materials.
- Recognition award upon satisfactory completion of the course.
- Certificate of completion for 18 hours.
