AT THE PROGRAM FOR TEACHING EAST ASIA
UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER

Fall 2023 National Online Seminar

Chinese Literature through History, Part I: Yuan, Ming, Qing
September 21–November 8, 2023

A Professional Development Seminar for Secondary Teachers

NCTA at the Program for Teaching East Asia offers this online course examining literary writings from China's Yuan, Ming, and Qing dynasties (1271-1911). Participating teachers will become acquainted with important pieces of literature that reflect the time periods and offer important windows into Chinese society and culture. The course is open to secondary (6-12) teachers who teach about China as part of their required curriculum. The seminar is Part I of TEA-NCTA's two-semester offering on Chinese Literature through History. Part II, to be offered in Winter 2024, will focus on the Republican, Maoist, and Reform periods.

Course Format and Expectations: The seminar will be conducted through three asynchronous online modules, each consisting of pertinent readings on history and culture, resources, and a participant discussion forum on content and pedagogy. The course starts September 21, 2023, with online introductions. The first module will begin September 28, and the final module will conclude on November 8, 2023. A short Curriculum Implementation Plan (CIP) and evaluation will be due December 7, 2023.

Eligibility and Selection: Secondary teachers nationwide are invited to apply. Admission is selective, and priority will be given to literature and world history teachers; contract teachers whose required curriculum includes imperial China; and teachers who are not enrolling in another fall NCTA online seminar. Enrollment is limited to 25 teachers; applications close September 16, 2023, or when course is full.

Participation is free, with the following benefits and expectations:

- Receive access to most materials online or via download;
- Purchase a copy of Six Records of a Floating Life by Shen Fu;
- Discussion with Chinese literature studies specialist and fellow educators;
- $100 completion award and certificate of completion for 24 hours.
