Fall Registration Update (Sally Page)

Friday, May 29, was the last day for continuing students and readmitted undergraduate students to access registration for fall. They will not have access again until August 3–14.

May 29 was also the last day for new transfer students to access fall registration. Access for them reopens on Thursday, June 11.

Also, waitlist processing for fall is no longer running. It will start up again on Monday, August 3.

NOTE: New and readmitted graduate students will continue to have access to fall registration through Friday, August 14.

In addition, we're doing the fall batch preregistration of new freshmen this week. Because of this, department users, advisors, deans' offices, etc., do not have access to do any enrollment or drop/add for fall semester, as users don't currently have enrollment appointment override access.

Beginning Monday, June 8, enrollment appointment override access for fall will be given to applicable users for purposes of enrolling students in special courses (RAPs, SASC, honors, etc.), as well as for advisors to assist new students with registration if appropriate.

We'll send another fall registration update on Monday, June 8.
