FERPA Consent to Release: R02 Service Indicator Inactivated (CU-SIS Development)

As of June 15, the R02 service indicator, used for the previous version of FERPA Consent to Release, has been inactivated for current active students (Spring 2016). The Office of the Registrar conducted extensive outreach to current active students with the R02 service indicator at the end of the semester and once the new online FERPA Consent to Release went live. More than 1,500 students with a previous FERPA consent form completed the new online process. The R02 service indicator will remain on file for previous and/or inactive students.
