| $200 Withdrawal Fee; 100% Refund Period | New, readmit & transfer students are not eligible for a confirmation deposit refund, and will not be charged the withdrawal fee. Continuing Education students are not assessed a financial penalty if they withdraw by the end of this period. All other students are required to pay a $200 withdrawal fee if they withdraw from all Main Campus classes during this period. The confirmation deposit is automatically credited toward the fee. Students may be eligible to receive a refund of tuition and fees depending on their enrollment in special sessions:

  - In-state students who withdraw from a special session may be eligible for a refund of tuition and fees. In-state students will only receive this refund if they withdraw from the whole semester, or if their withdrawal from a special session changes their enrollment status at CU Boulder (e.g., from enrolled to withdrawn, or from full time to half time).
  - Out-of-state students who withdraw from a session but remain enrolled in other Main Campus sessions will not receive a refund of tuition and fees. Out-of-state students are billed a flat rate regardless of the number of credit hours in which they’re enrolled, and will not receive a refund if they stay enrolled in any number of credit hours (1–18). Nonresidents will only receive a refund of tuition and fees if they withdraw from all sessions by the end of the $200 withdrawal fee period. |

Important Financial Aid Deadline
The semester is 60 percent complete. If attendance is confirmed, students who drop all Main Campus classes on or after this date will have earned 100 percent of their financial aid award. See the Financial Aid Withdrawal Policy for details.

Dean's Approval Required for Specific Programs
Environment, law, music and MBA students require a dean's approval to drop all Main Campus classes or a special term class after this date.
