The UCBRFA is pleased to announce the winners of the 2023-2024 Research Grants and Creative Works Awards.

- Professor Emerita Joanne Belknap, Ethnic Studies: “The Impact of Race on Gender-Based Abuse Victimization in the United States.”

- Professor Emerita Catherine Cameron, Anthropology: “Exploring the development of Social Complexity in the American Southwest: Ground stone objects from the Chaco Canyon New Mexico.”

- Professor Emeritus Gerhard Fischer, Computer Science: “From ‘AI versus Humans’ to ‘AI and Humans’: Rethinking and reinventing learning, education, and collaboration in the digital age.”

- Professor Emeritus Robert L. Hohlfelder, History: “Nero’s Contributions to the Roman Maritime Infrastructure: Deeds and Dreams.”

- Professor Guy Stringfellow, Center for Astrophysics & Space Astronomy: “Enabling Science Through Engagement in Large Observational Surveys in Astrophysics.”

The UCBRFA Awards program supports retired faculty research and is open to all UCB retired faculty. These awards are meant to encourage continued engagement and aid in fostering research and creative works. Funding for this program has been generously provided by the Chancellor’s office in recognition of the continuing research contributions of UCB retirees to their fields and to the reputation of the university community.