The information contained within this document is intended to provide general information to members of the CU Boulder community and is not intended to, nor does it, create a contract between Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution (SCCR) or the University of Colorado Boulder and community members. SCCR reserves the right to change or eliminate any of the language herein at its discretion and without notice.

A. Why Do We Have a Student Code of Conduct? (Authority)

Article 7, Part B, of the Laws of the Regents of the University of Colorado requires each campus to develop a student code of conduct. Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution (SCCR) is authorized to establish and administer this policy. Any questions regarding interpretation of this code or any of its provisions should be directed to the Dean of Students or their designee for final determination.

Questions regarding student behavior should be directed to Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution, studentconduct@colorado.edu, CU Boulder of Colorado Boulder, 10 UCB Boulder, CO 80309, phone 303-492-5550.

B. What We Believe

SCCR strives to provide students with individualized responses to support community standards and conflict resolution that emphasize accountability and growth by:

- fostering reflection on the impact of their behaviors;
- promoting harm repair and responsible community membership; and
- cultivating the wellbeing and safety of the University of Colorado Boulder (CU Boulder) community.

What is Important to Us

1. The student will understand the impact of their behavior on others.
2. The student will demonstrate ethical development, will comply with institutional policy, and will engage in no further violations of policy.

3. The student will gain an understanding of the institutional values reflected in institutional policies.
4. The student will gain a better understanding of the importance of personal integrity.
5. Through SCCR processes, the student will be asked to reflect on their beliefs, ethics, and values.
 - a. The student will be able to articulate their personal ethics and values, will act in congruence with those ethics and values, and will make decisions that reflect their beliefs.
6. The student will contribute positively to the CU Boulder community and beyond.
7. The student will gain a better understanding of the consequences and potential consequences of their personal actions and will learn the purposes of institutional policies.
8. The student will employ critical thinking in problem solving and ultimately obtain a degree.

C. Student Rights and Responsibilities in SCCR

When interacting with SCCR, students have the right to:

- Receive notice of any alleged CU Boulder policy violations and meet with a resolution specialist to discuss the allegations.
- Request and receive reasonable accommodations due to a disability in order to fully participate in any SCCR process.
 - Students who are requesting accommodations due to a disability must contact Disability Services and should do so as soon as possible in order to receive timely assistance. Disability Services will go through the applicable accommodation process and provide the student with an accommodations letter, if appropriate. Disability Services information is available online at: <https://www.colorado.edu/disabilityservices/>.
- Have an advisor, support person, or other person they identify and trust present during SCCR meetings.
 - Students bringing an advisor, support person, or other person they identify and trust, must complete a release of information form for that person. The form is located on the SCCR website.
- Review their SCCR file upon request.
- Authorize SCCR to communicate about their student conduct information to others.
 - Students seeking to release records or information must complete a release of information form, which is located on the SCCR website. Limits to information release are defined in Section J.

Students have the responsibility to:

- Educate themselves, seeking clarification when needed, on standards of conduct and other requirements they are responsible for upholding as a CU Boulder student.
- Communicate conscientiously and honestly in any SCCR process.
- Adhere to stated deadlines and attend scheduled meetings.
- Cooperate and discuss relevant information with resolution specialists and other SCCR staff.

Knowingly providing false or misleading information to SCCR is a violation of the Student Code of Conduct. This provision does not apply to reports made or information provided in good faith, even if the facts alleged are not later substantiated.

Failure to uphold these responsibilities may result in a decision being made without the benefit of the student's participation and may result in an alleged violation of E.13.

D. When and Where Does the Student Code of Conduct Apply? (Jurisdiction)

1. The Student Code of Conduct applies to:
 - a. Student conduct that occurs on, or as it relates to, CU Boulder property or at official functions and CU Boulder sponsored programs conducted away from the campus. CU Boulder property is defined as land, buildings, digital space, and facilities in possession of or owned, used, or controlled by CU Boulder, or funded by CU Boulder budgets.
 - b. Student conduct that occurs off CU Boulder property is subject to this policy if it:
 - i. adversely affects the health, safety, or security of any member of the CU Boulder community, including the student alleged to have violated CU Boulder policy, or the mission of CU Boulder; or
 - ii. involves any records or documents of CU Boulder; or
 - iii. involves conduct that may be a violation of federal, state, or local law as determined by SCCR.

- c. For purposes of this policy, CU Boulder's mission is broadly defined to include both its academic goals and the importance of developing civic responsibility in our students.
2. Recognized Student Organizations and Recognized Social Greek Organizations
 - a. Wherever the Student Code of Conduct refers to "responding student", the same also applies to Recognized Student Organizations (RSOs) and Recognized Social Greek Organizations (RSGOs). RSOs, as described in the Student Organization Handbook (<https://www.colorado.edu/involvement/>), are general student organizations recognized by the Center for Student Involvement (CSI) and CU Boulder. Recognized Social Greek Organizations are recognized by Fraternity & Sorority Life (FSL) and CU Boulder.
 - b. RSOs and RSGOs, as well as their members and other students, may be held collectively and/or individually responsible.
 - c. The RSO and RSGO officers, leaders, signers, or individuals currently listed in an official position in the Center for Student Involvement records or Fraternity and Sorority Life records may be held collectively and/or individually responsible when such violations are committed by persons associated with the organization who have received consent or encouragement from the organization officers or leaders, if those officers or leaders knew, or reasonably should have known, that such violations were being or would be committed.
 - d. The officers or leaders of a student organization may be directed by CU Boulder officials to take action designed to prevent or end such violations by the organization or by any persons associated with the organization. Failure to comply with a directive may be considered a violation of the Student Code of Conduct, both by the officers or leaders of the organization, and by the organization.
 3. Actions taken under a resolution process are separate and apart from any law enforcement or other court process or proceeding, such as a civil lawsuit or criminal prosecution, that may relate to the same underlying factual incident. SCCR's jurisdiction does not depend on whether a responding student is criminally charged through the criminal justice system. A resolution process is not postponed while criminal or civil proceedings are pending unless otherwise determined by the resolution specialist. Dismissal of criminal charges or acquittal in a criminal case does not prevent SCCR from investigating and adjudicating an incident.
 4. The unexcused failure of a responding student to appear and/or respond to a resolution process does not prevent CU Boulder from proceeding with or completing a resolution process.
 5. For jurisdictional information related to sex misconduct (including sexual assault, sexual harassment, intimate partner violence, and gender/sex-based stalking), protected class discrimination, harassment, and any related retaliation, see Section L.1.
 6. For jurisdictional information pertaining to academic misconduct, see Section L.2.
 7. Questions or concerns regarding policy and procedures for students charged or convicted of a crime that occurred prior to being admitted should be directed to SCCR.

E. What is a Violation? (Prohibited Student Conduct)

The conduct listed below is prohibited, as are attempts to engage in conduct prohibited by this code, and/or aiding or abetting in conduct prohibited by this code or CU Boulder policy. Prohibited conduct also includes conduct engaged in by electronic means, including, but not limited to, computers (such as with use of the internet for email or social media purposes), any type of phone (such as by calls, texts, instant messaging, or the internet), or any other means of electronic communication. These provisions should not be construed, and will not be enacted, to deny any student any rights protected by the United States and/or Colorado Constitution.

1. Physical Misconduct. Any intentional or reckless physical force causing, or that could reasonably cause, bodily harm upon any person including, but not limited to, assault, fighting, brawling, or restraining someone against their will.

- whether they would reasonably perceive that a serious expression of intent to commit an act of unlawful violence had been made; or
- b. its very utterance inflicts injury or tends to incite an immediate breach of the peace.
4. Threats to or Endangerment of Animal(s). Threatening or endangering the health or safety of an animal(s).
 5. False Application Materials. Providing materially false information, or omitting information, on an application for admission to CU Boulder which would have materially impacted eligibility or conditions for admission when one knew or did not use one's best efforts to determine the accuracy of the information provided.
 6. Public Exposure. Recklessly and publicly exposing one's intimate body parts or engaging in public urination, defecation, or sex acts that do not fall under the Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance's Process and Procedures jurisdiction.
 7. Violation of Law. Violating any federal, state, or local law, as determined by SCCR.
 8. Hazing. Any action or situation that recklessly or intentionally endangers the health, safety, or welfare of, or causes a risk of bodily injury to, an individual for the purpose of initiation, participation, admission into, or affiliation with any organization or group at CU Boulder. Hazing includes, but is not limited to, any abuse of a mental or physical nature, forced consumption of any food, liquor, drugs, or substances, any forced physical activity that could adversely affect the health or safety of an individual, any activity that would subject the individual to embarrassment or humiliation, or any forced violation of CU Boulder policy, and/or local, state, or federal law. The willingness of the participant in such activities are notwithstanding (See Appendix 2).
 9. Abusive Conduct. Any severe, persistent, or pervasive verbal abuse, threats, intimidation, coercion, or other conduct which has caused a person substantial emotional distress and where the circumstances would cause a reasonable person to suffer substantial emotional distress.

 - a. Manufacturing, use, or possession of false identification;
 - b. Using the identification of another person;
 - c. Forging or altering another person's signature or any official CU Boulder document; or
 - d. Providing materially false information, or omitting information, on an official CU Boulder document.

16. Retaliation. Retaliating against or discouraging, directly or through third parties, an individual from participating in a CU Boulder process, including a resolution process or a criminal process. To be considered retaliation there must be a causal connection between a materially adverse action and the act of reporting a violation or participating in such a process. A materially adverse action is one that would dissuade a reasonable person from reporting a violation, and includes, but is not limited to, property damage, intimidation, threats, or coercion. A determination of whether an action is materially adverse is a fact-dependent inquiry made after an individualized review by the resolution specialist.

 - a. intentionally, or recklessly, causing a fire, which damages CU Boulder or personal property;

21. Recording. Use of an electronic or other device to make an audio and/or visual recording of another person (including, but not limited to, photographing, videotaping, filming, or audio recording) without the person's express consent when such recording causes the person to suffer substantial emotional distress and would cause a reasonable person to suffer substantial emotional distress. The storing, sharing, and/or distribution of such records by any means is also prohibited.
22. Weapons. Possessing firearms, explosives, incendiary devices, ammunition, or other weapons on campus, in a CU Boulder leased building, or areas where such possession interferes with the learning and working environment, except as permitted by law. "Weapon" as used in this provision may be an instrument of offensive or defensive combat; anything used, or designed to be used, in destroying, defeating, or injuring a person; any instrumentality designed, or likely to produce, bodily harm. A weapon may include, but not be limited to, the following: any firearm, slingshot, cross knuckles, knuckles of lead, brass, or other metal, any bowie knife, dirk, dagger, or similar knife, or any knife having the appearance of a pocketknife, the blade of which can be opened by a flick of a button, pressure on the handle, or other mechanical contrivance. A harmless instrument designed to look like a firearm, explosive, or dangerous weapon which is used by, or is in the possession of, a person with the intent to cause fear in or assault to another person is expressly included within the meaning of weapon.
23. Theft. Theft, including but not limited to, possessing property known to be stolen, or taking property of another without consent, even with an intent to return the property.

F. What are Resolution Processes and How Do They Work?

Overview of Procedures

- SCCR receives notification of a potential violation
- SCCR sends a Resolution Meeting Notice
- Students have the opportunity to participate in the resolution process
 - In the Formal Resolution Process, the student has the opportunity to meet with a resolution specialist. If the student does not accept responsibility, SCCR determines whether it is more likely than not that the student is responsible. If the student is found responsible, the student is assigned resolution outcomes and the process is complete upon completion of those outcomes.
 - In the Informal Resolution Process, the student meets with a resolution specialist and accepts responsibility. The process is complete when the student completes the resolution outcomes assigned in the meeting.
 - In the Restorative Justice Process, the student participates in a facilitated dialogue with community members. The group collaboratively determines reparative agreements for the student to complete. The process is complete when the student completes all reparative agreements.
- At the discretion of the resolution specialist, a student may receive a Policy Reminder in lieu of a resolution process. A policy reminder is a summary of the potential violation and reminder of the relevant policy in the Student Code of Conduct. No factual findings or decision about whether a policy violation occurred are made and no action is required on the part of the student.

1. Commencement of a Resolution Process

A resolution specialist may initiate a resolution process on the basis of a complaint or report received from any source, including, but not limited to, an individual, a residence hall official, or a law enforcement agency.

Upon receipt of a complaint or report, the resolution specialist may review the information to decide whether the allegations fall within the jurisdiction of the Student Code of Conduct and whether a resolution process should occur. The resolution specialist may:

- i. initiate a formal resolution process by sending the responding student or Recognized Student Organization (RSO) or Recognized Social Greek Organization (RSGO) a Resolution Meeting Notice;
 - a. RSO and RSGO Resolution Meeting Notices will be sent to the email address provided by the student organization to the Center for Student Involvement or Fraternity & Sorority Life.
 - b. Communications with RSOs and RSGOs will be directed to the president, principal officer, student group signatory, or other student(s) designated by the group to act as an agent on behalf of the group.
- ii. resolve the situation through an informal resolution process including, but not limited to, mediation or a meeting between the responding student and a student resolution specialist or a third party; or
- iii. refer the complaint or report to the Restorative Justice process.
- iv. determine that the facts of the complaint or report, even if true, would not constitute a violation of the Student Code of Conduct or applicable policy, and take no further action.

2. Resolution Meeting Notice

- a. When the resolution specialist initiates a resolution process, a Resolution Meeting Notice will be sent to the responding student who is the subject of the report or complaint. As noted in the Student Email Policy (<http://www.colorado.edu/policies/student-e-mail-policy>), email is an official means of communication with CU Boulder. Therefore, CU Boulder has the right to send communications to responding students via email and the right to expect that those communications will be received and read in a timely fashion. At the resolution specialist's discretion, the notice may also be hand delivered or sent via standard U.S. mail to the mailing or permanent address appearing in CU Boulder's student information system or police report. Notice to the responding student will be considered furnished on the date of hand delivery, on the date emailed, or three business days after the date the notice is placed in the U.S. mail.
- b. The Resolution Meeting Notice shall include:
 - i. a summary of the known factual information supporting the alleged prohibited conduct, including the date and location of any incident, to the extent known and available;
 - ii. alleged violations of the Student Code of Conduct; and
 - iii. a scheduled day, time, and location of the resolution meeting. Students may request to reschedule for a different time or day.
- c. If a "no contact" directive is detailed in the Resolution Meeting Notice, it is the responsibility of the responding student not to have any contact with the individual(s) named, directly, through third parties, or via electronic means. If an "exclusion" directive is detailed in the Resolution Meeting Notice, it is the responsibility of the responding student to abide by the directives as outlined in the notice.
- d. In cases where a responding student has been contacted for a Student Code of Conduct violation by police at a sporting or other event, notice for a resolution process may be issued at the time of the incident by SCCR staff. Such notice may include a preset resolution meeting time with SCCR.
- e. Expedited Formal Process. When the resolution specialist determines that a prompt resolution meeting is essential (including but not limited to CU Boulder new student welcome or orientation, end of the semester, the responding student is graduating, or there is substantial concern for the health, safety, or welfare of any person), the resolution specialist may require that the responding student meet with them within 48 hours. In addition, in these cases, notice may be given via email, telephone, hand delivery, or by an end of semester contact form.

3. Resolution Processes

SCCR resolves alleged prohibited conduct through the informal resolution process, the formal resolution process, or the restorative justice process. Resolution specialists have the authority and sole discretion to determine the type of resolution process. This decision is primarily based on, but not limited to, the following factors:

- i. if the responding student admits or otherwise takes responsibility for the alleged prohibited conduct;
- ii. the responding student's prior conduct record;
- iii. the nature and severity of the alleged prohibited conduct;

- iv. the alleged impact and/or harm caused to another person or community;
- v. whether the alleged conduct would violate the Student Code of Conduct; and/or
- vi. any other factors that the resolution specialist finds relevant to the specific allegations.

The formal resolution process is an adjudication of the alleged prohibited conduct, considered an educational but disciplinary process, and may result in disciplinary resolution outcomes and a disciplinary conduct record.

The informal resolution process and restorative justice process are intended as forms of alternative dispute resolution, are voluntary, primarily educational in nature, not an adjudication of the allegations, not considered a disciplinary process, and instead will result in a written agreement with the responding student. Because SCCR does not consider the informal resolution process or restorative justice process to be disciplinary processes, they will not result in a disciplinary conduct record or file. Informal resolutions and restorative justice will never result in resolution outcomes such as suspension or expulsion.

The first step in each resolution process is initiated by the resolution specialist issuing a written Resolution Meeting Notice to the responding student, which prompts the responding student to attend a scheduled meeting with the resolution specialist as outlined in the notice.

a. Informal Resolution

This process may generally include, but is not limited to, a meeting with a resolution specialist, completion of the assigned resolution outcomes, and/or participation in the restorative justice process as is referenced in Section F.3.c.

During the meeting, if the resolution specialist determines that the informal resolution process may be appropriate, the resolution specialist will offer it as an option to the responding student and address any questions the responding student may have about the process. If the responding student accepts responsibility for the alleged prohibited conduct and completes educational resolution outcomes assigned by the resolution specialist, then SCCR will consider the matter to be resolved informally.

The educational resolution outcomes may include, but are not limited to, the following required actions:

- i. alcohol or substance use class;
- ii. participation in a circle process;
- iii. participation in conflict coaching and/or a mediation process;
- iv. meeting with campus resources; and/or
- v. other educational requirements.

To identify appropriate and meaningful requirements in agreements, responding students are encouraged to engage in interactive communications with the resolution specialist.

The resolution specialist reserves the right to stop the informal resolution process and initiate the formal resolution process at any time prior to the responding student's completion of the informal process including, but not limited to:

- i. a responding student failing to schedule or attend the meeting with the resolution specialist;
- ii. a responding student's denial of responsibility for the alleged prohibited conduct;
- iii. if a responding student does not want to participate in the informal resolution process;
- iv. if a responding student fails to complete assigned educational outcomes; or
- v. the resolution specialist determines that the matter is more appropriately resolved under the formal resolution process.

b. Formal Resolution

This process generally includes:

- i. written notice of the factual allegations and alleged violations of the Student Code of Conduct;
- ii. the opportunity to meet with the resolution specialist to address the allegations and provide information to the resolution specialist;
- iii. the resolution specialist reviewing the allegations and making factual and violation determinations based on preponderance of the evidence; and
- iv. written notice to the responding student of the resolution specialist's determinations.

The resolution specialist will consider the following in making this determination:

- i. the allegations in the Resolution Meeting Notice and the responding student's response to those allegations;

- ii. any documents or information that the resolution specialist finds relevant, including without limitation, relevant documents presented by the responding student, any alleged victim, or any other interested party; and/or
- iii. the oral or written statements of any witnesses with relevant information, as presented by the responding student, any alleged victim, or other interested party, as it appears in a report, or as requested by the resolution specialist.

The responding student may identify witnesses believed to have relevant information to impart to the resolution specialist. If the resolution specialist determines that the witness may have relevant information, a good faith effort to contact such witnesses will be made to obtain a statement from them.

- i. SCCR cannot guarantee the participation of an identified witness.
- ii. The resolution specialist may decline to contact any witnesses if the resolution specialist believes that the witness does not have information relevant to the facts in dispute.
- iii. The responding student may submit questions to the resolution specialist to be asked of the witnesses but is not entitled to be present during the resolution specialist's interview of witnesses, including any victim. It is within the discretion of the resolution specialist to decide whether to ask the witnesses any question(s) submitted by the responding student and the resolution specialist may decline to ask a question that is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of probative information or when the probative value of the information is outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice or confusion of the issues or by considerations of undue delay or needless presentation of cumulative information.
- iv. Students are expected to respond as requested in a resolution process as a responsibility of membership in the CU Boulder community, and failure to do so may result in disciplinary action.
- v. The resolution specialist may choose to meet again with the responding student or any other witnesses, including any reporting party, in order to obtain responses to additional information gathered during the formal resolution process.

Prior to the resolution specialist's decision in a formal resolution process, responding students may request to know the names of any witness or any complainant, if not already provided, and have access to review and respond to the relevant information any such individuals have provided to resolution specialists.

Technical rules of evidence and procedures applicable to civil and criminal court cases do not apply to the formal resolution process. The resolution specialist is authorized to consider any information relevant to the allegation of prohibited conduct.

The resolution specialist may exclude any person, including the responding student and/or the student's advisor, who disrupts a meeting.

Standard of Proof and Process

In order to find that a responding student has engaged in prohibited conduct, the standard of proof required is a preponderance of the information contained in the record. The information must demonstrate that it is more likely than not that the responding student violated the Student Code of Conduct.

The resolution specialist will make determinations about the facts and the credibility and reliability of the information provided and determine whether the responding student has violated the Student Code of Conduct based on a preponderance of the evidence. If the evidence weighs so evenly that the resolution specialist is unable to determine that there is a preponderance on either side, the resolution specialist must determine that there is insufficient evidence to conclude there has been a violation. In applying the preponderance of the evidence standard, the resolution specialist may consider both direct and circumstantial information. The investigator may determine the credibility of witnesses, and the weight to be given their statements, taking into consideration their means of knowledge, strength of memory, and opportunities for observation, the reasonableness or unreasonableness of their statements, the consistency or lack of consistency of their statements, their motives, whether their statements are contradicted or supported by other information, any evidence of bias, prejudice or interest, and their manner and demeanor when providing statements.

If the responding student is found responsible for violating the Student Code of Conduct, the resolution specialist will determine any aggravating or mitigating circumstances and assign resolution outcomes. The Complainant may provide an impact statement to the resolution specialist for consideration as an aggravating or mitigating circumstance for the purpose of assigning resolution outcomes. The resolution specialist will notify the responding student and appropriate CU Boulder officials of the decision in writing. The appeal process, if applicable, is outlined in Section I.

SCCR maintains a record of the information obtained pursuant to the formal resolution process. The record includes copies of all correspondence between the responding student and SCCR, copies of any audio records, all documents, and the decision. Please see J.1. for more information about record retention.

If the responding student does not schedule or attend a scheduled meeting with the resolution specialist or attends a meeting but does not participate by the date specified in the notice, the resolution specialist may decide the outcome of the case in the responding student's absence or without the responding student's participation based on the information available to the resolution specialist.

Requests for any delay in the process or rescheduling of any meeting are discouraged, will be considered on a case-by-case basis, and granted only if the resolution specialist determines that the circumstances are appropriate.

c. Restorative Justice

The Director of SCCR, or their designee, has discretion to refer a report or complaint to the University of Colorado Restorative Justice Program (CURJ). Restorative justice helps to address the relationship between victims, offenders, and the community in a way that repairs the impacts of an incident, holds the offender accountable for their actions, and builds community. In order to participate in a restorative justice process, the student must take responsibility for what occurred and be willing to participate in the restorative justice process. All parties must agree on the resolution and the student will be bound by the decision with no review/appeal.

Depending on the violation, what happened, and the need of those involved, the restorative justice process will involve the person or people responsible and may involve people impacted or affected by the incident, community members, and CURJ staff and/or volunteers. The process overall has three steps in which the student will:

- i. Attend one or more intakes with a CURJ staff member who explains the process, confirms the student is taking responsibility for what happened, and schedules the student into their restorative justice conference.
- ii. Participate in a restorative justice conference where the student shares their story, discusses harm and impact, and agrees to a reparative agreement to make things right.
- iii. Complete a reparative agreement that aims to repair harm, provide education, and address underlying needs.

Once students have completed these three steps, CURJ will provide them a completion letter.

Responding students who do not successfully complete the CURJ Program will be referred to a resolution specialist for resolution through the formal or informal resolution process as determined by the resolution specialist.

d. Policy Reminders

SCCR may send students a policy reminder if a submitted report indicates a possible violation of CU Boulder policy. The policy reminder is a letter providing a summary of the report and reminding student of the relevant policy in the Student Code of Conduct. No action is required on the part of the student. The student is not alleged to have violated the relevant policy nor is a finding issued based on the report received. A policy reminder does not result in a disciplinary action or a disciplinary record with CU Boulder.

G. Who Can You Bring With You? (Advisors)

Responding students may bring a support person/advisor of their choice, including but not limited to, an advocate, attorney, or other person who is not a potential witness or could otherwise compromise the process, to any resolution process meeting, including, but not limited to, meetings in the formal resolution process. Support persons/advisors are not permitted to speak for, or on behalf of, the responding student during any phase of a resolution process, including meetings in the formal resolution process. However, with permission from the resolution specialist, advisors may make a statement and/or ask questions of the responding student to present relevant information after the resolution specialist has completed discussions with the responding student. If a responding student chooses to bring an advisor to the meeting, it is the responding student's obligation to select an advisor whose schedule allows attendance within the time frame designated in the Resolution Meeting Notice.

SCCR, or the designated resolution specialist, is not obligated to reschedule the meeting to accommodate an advisor's schedule.

H. What are Resolution Outcomes? (Sanctions)

Overview of Resolution Outcomes

There are three types of Resolution Outcomes:

- Administrative Outcomes impact a student's status with CU Boulder.
- Educational Outcomes are educational actions assigned to help a student address factors impacting behavior.
- Restriction Outcomes impact a student's interaction with campus and/or communication with others. In an informal resolution, or a formal resolution where the student has been found responsible, a student will likely be assigned one administrative outcome and at least one educational outcome. In the restorative justice process, students complete reparative agreements in lieu of resolution outcomes.

A registration hold may be placed if a responding student fails to complete assigned resolution outcomes. The registration hold will not be removed until all resolution outcomes are completed. The registration hold is honored by CU Boulder, including Continuing Education, and prohibits the responding student from registering for classes until the resolution process has been completed.

- Resolution Factors
Resolution Outcomes in the formal resolution process will be assigned based upon a consideration of all of the relevant circumstances in a particular case. Mitigating and aggravating circumstances will be specifically considered.
- Aggravating circumstances are any circumstances accompanying the commission of prohibited conduct that adds to its seriousness.
- Mitigating circumstances are any circumstances that reduce the resolution outcomes for prohibited conduct.

These do not change whether someone violated the Student Code of Conduct and are not a justification or excuse for the prohibited conduct in questions.

Resolution specialists will typically consider circumstances from the list below and may consider other circumstances relevant to a particular incident:

- Previous violations of the Student Code of Conduct
- Number of violations in an incident
- Influence of alcohol or other drugs, specifically:
 - public intoxication;
 - medical transport;
 - providing alcohol/drugs to minors;
 - driving a vehicle under the influence of alcohol/drugs;
- Violence or force
- Violation of trust or duty
- Premeditation to the incident
- Damage to property
- Obstruction of a peace officer
- Failure to abide by a CU Boulder official
- Understanding of impact

In all cases, the resolution specialist or Conduct Appeal Board, to the extent applicable, reserves the right to use their discretion in determining the appropriate resolution outcome for a case, which could include lesser or more severe resolution outcomes than the circumstances above.

Resolution Outcomes

The following is a non-exhaustive list of the possible Resolution Outcomes that a resolution specialist may assign based upon a violation of the Student Code of Conduct.

Administrative Outcomes

- Warning

A warning/written reprimand is a written statement from the resolution specialist or conduct body that the behavior was in violation of a specific CU Boulder policy and that more serious conduct action will likely be taken should subsequent policy violations occur.

- Probation

A responding student is placed on probation, which lasts for a period of time, as specified in writing. Further prohibited conduct, including, but not limited to, violations of the Student Code of Conduct, Residential Handbook, the Sex Misconduct Policy, or the Discrimination and Harassment Policy, occurring during the probationary period will likely result in further disciplinary action.

- Loss of Good Standing

The responding student is not in good standing with CU Boulder for a designated period of time. Further prohibited conduct, including, but not limited to, violations of the Student Code of Conduct, Residential Handbook, the Sex Misconduct, Intimate Partner Violence, and Stalking Policy, or the Discrimination and Harassment Policy, is likely to result in suspension. Loss of good standing may prohibit or impact a responding student from:

- representing CU Boulder through official events;
- participating in Education Abroad; and/or
- serving in a leadership position or on a CU Boulder committee.

- Community Re-engagement Program

Consistent with its educational and developmental goals, SCCR maintains a Community Re-engagement Program designed to help responding students on Loss of Good Standing to re-engage with their community in positive ways and become eligible for SCCR to consider early termination of their Loss of Good Standing. More information about the program can be found on the SCCR website.

- Suspension

The responding student is required to leave CU Boulder for a specific period of time. A suspension notation appears on the responding student's transcript. After the period of suspension has expired, the transcript notation will be removed. Suspension from CU Boulder includes an exclusion from CU Boulder property during the period of suspension.

A suspension decision results in the responding student being suspended from all campuses of the University of Colorado system. This includes CU Continuing Education courses. Upon completion of the suspension, if the responding student wishes to return to CU Boulder, they are eligible to reapply. Undergraduate students must complete the readmission process through the Office of Admissions. Graduate and professional students must complete the readmission process as defined by their school or college.

- Expulsion

The responding student is required to leave CU Boulder permanently. A notation of expulsion remains permanently on the responding student's transcript. In the event of an expulsion, SCCR will keep the incident file indefinitely. Expulsion from CU Boulder includes an automatic exclusion from CU Boulder property. An expulsion decision results in the responding student being expelled from all campuses of the University of Colorado system. This includes CU Continuing Education courses.

- Revocation of Admission

The responding student's admission is revoked. If the student wishes to enroll in classes at the institution in the future, they must reapply as a potentially newly incoming student.

Educational Outcomes

- Educational Outcomes

The responding student may be required to attend a class, program, or lecture or be involved with the community in a way that brings about a new understanding of the community and how the responding student's behavior may have impacted others. This is not an exhaustive list but should serve as a reference for the types of educational resolution outcomes that may be imposed.

- Alcohol and/or Drug Testing

A responding student may be required to show compliance with sobriety from alcohol and/or drugs through the submission of alcohol and drug testing. The length of time and frequency of these tests is at the discretion of the resolution specialist.

- Parent/Guardian Notification

SCCR notifies parent/guardian(s) when a responding student under age 21 is found responsible for violating the alcohol or drug policy. SCCR also may notify parent/guardian(s) when a responding student is found responsible for violating a public health order and there is an articulable and impending significant health or safety concern for the student or others, such as a surge or outbreak of infectious disease.

Restriction Outcomes

- Residence Hall Reassignment

A responding student who resides in a residence hall is assigned to a different residence hall on campus.

- Residence Hall Termination

A responding student's residence hall agreement is terminated through a resolution process and the responding student is prohibited from residing in any CU Boulder residence hall on either a permanent or a temporary basis. Specific exclusion from the residence halls may also be imposed. Termination may occur in cases where a responding student is allegedly involved in violations of the Student Code of Conduct and the behavior or pattern of behavior has a significant negative impact on their living community.

- Residence Hall Termination in Abeyance. The responding student's residence hall agreement is terminated, but due to mitigating circumstances the termination is deferred, allowing the responding student to continue living in the residence hall and providing a responding student with a final opportunity to prove they can operate responsibly within the living community. If the responding student, through a resolution process, is found to have violated the Student Code of Conduct or any Residence Hall Policy during the period of termination in abeyance, the responding student will likely be immediately terminated from the residence hall for the duration of the abeyance, and may be given additional resolution outcomes, including an extension of the termination and/or suspension.

- No Contact Directive

The Director of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution, or their designee, has discretion at any point during a resolution process, formal or informal, to assign a no contact directive, including after a decision has been made, regardless of finding. When a responding student is issued a no contact directive, the responding student may request to meet with a resolution specialist to discuss the factors of the no contact directive or to request that SCCR lift the no contact directive. These directives will remain in effect for the duration of a resolution process and until otherwise notified by the Director of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution or their designee.

- a. If a responding student is assigned a no contact directive, they are prohibited from having any contact with the person(s) as described in the notice. Contact includes, but is not limited to, direct contact, and all forms of communication, extending to email, social media sites, phone, texting, or any contact initiated through a third party.
- b. Failure to abide by the no contact directive may result in the resolution specialist issuing a Resolution Meeting Notice for an alleged violation of E.12 and subject the responding student to resolution outcomes. Any retaliatory contact directed toward any person connected to a resolution process is prohibited as described in E.16, may result in the resolution specialist issuing a Resolution Meeting Notice and subject the responding student to resolution outcomes.

- Exclusion

The responding student is denied access to all or a portion of CU Boulder property. When a responding student is excluded from CU Boulder property, that responding student may be permitted on to CU Boulder property for limited periods and specific activities with the permission of the Director of SCCR or their designee. Should the responding student enter CU Boulder property without permission, the police may take action for trespassing.

- Restriction or Denial of CU Boulder Services

The responding student is restricted from using, or is denied access to, specified CU Boulder services and/or CU Boulder activities.

- Adjudication Fee

When a student conduct incident results in probation, loss of good standing, or suspension, a $75 fee will be assessed to the responding student's bursar account. For subsequent incidents resulting in probation, loss of good standing, or suspension, a $100 fee will be assessed. This fee is used by the Division of Student Affairs to support educational programs and presentations. Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution does not receive any of the adjudication fee. Failure to pay the adjudication fee by the due date will result in late fees and/or service charges per the Bursar's Office. A financial hold* will be placed on the responding student's record if the responding student fails to pay the adjudication fee by the due date. This hold will prevent the responding student from:

- a. registering for future terms;
- b. participating in drop/add;
- c. receiving an academic transcript; and
- d. receiving a diploma.

*Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution cannot release this hold from a student's account.

Recognized Student Organization Outcomes and Recognized Social Greek Organization Outcomes

In addition to the resolution outcomes listed above, violations by RSOs and RSGOs may result in the RSO or RSGO being placed on Probation or Bad Standing (as outlined in the Student Organization Handbook) within CSI, which includes, but is not limited to, revocation of the following:

- a. being listed on CU Boulder's public directory;
- b. reserving campus space;
- c. hosting or sponsoring events;
- d. access to campus funding and fundraising opportunities; and/or
- e. access to the organization's operational account with CU Boulder.

RSOs and RSGOs may still be required to complete resolution outcomes even if the violation of the Code was engaged by a member, or members, of the organization when there was knowledge or consent given by the organization's officers, or when they acted as a cohort with other members of the organization.

I. Can Someone Else Review My Case? (Appeals)

1. Introduction

A responding student may only appeal if the resolution outcomes of loss of good standing, revocation of admission, termination of housing contract, suspension, or expulsion are assigned. All appeals must be made in accordance with procedures outlined in this section. The Conduct Appeal Board will review the case file, the written appeal, and supporting documentation received by the deadline set in the student conduct decision letter. The appeal is the final step in the resolution process.

An appeal does not provide a second or new ("de novo") review of the case. The review on appeal will be based on the existing record, or new information provided per I.2.a.iii, below. The information provided to the appeal officer in the responding student's request for appeal and information the resolution specialist may present regarding the rationale for the decision will be used to render an appeal decision. Deviation from any of the process or procedures in this document will not invalidate a proceeding or decision or be a basis for appeal except where such deviation has clearly resulted in significant prejudice to a responding student or complainant.

Appeal request forms must be written and submitted by the responding student. Appeal request forms submitted by another on behalf of the responding student will not be considered.

2. Appeal Criteria

- a. A responding student may appeal upon one or more of the following grounds:
 - i. The established procedures were not followed in a significant way, and, as a result, the factual findings, the resolution outcome, or both were not correct.
 - ii. The severity of the resolution outcome imposed was not appropriate based on the nature of the violation or the circumstances. For cases in which a responding student has accepted responsibility, such appeals are limited to having the severity of the resolution outcome reviewed.
 - iii. There is new information that would have been material to the decision, had the information been presented at the resolution meeting. The new information must be included with the responding student's request for appeal. In addition, the responding student must show that the new information was not known or otherwise available to the person appealing at the time of the original resolution meeting.

Disagreement with the decision is not grounds for appeal.

- b. Unless the welfare of an individual, group, or the community is threatened, the resolution outcomes imposed will not go into effect until either the deadline for filing an appeal passes and no appeal is filed, or if a timely appeal is filed, and the appeal is decided, whichever comes first.
- c. An appeal must be filed by the date specified in the original decision letter from SCCR. If a responding student files an appeal, they will be informed of the outcome when the appeal process has been completed. An appeal will only be considered if it includes the request to appeal form, the responding student's criteria for appeal, and rationale for appeal. It is the responding student's obligation to provide all materials they wish to have considered at the time of appeal submission. Subsequent information and/or revisions to the appeal will not be accepted. The Director of SCCR or their designee will make the decision as to whether these conditions have been met. A responding student may file an appeal by electronically submitting a request for appeal form, available on the SCCR website.

Responding students are encouraged to consult with all resources about the appeal process prior to submitting the request for an appeal.

Appeal Exemptions

There are no responding student appeals for the following:

- i. Colorado Law regarding riots; and
- ii. Colorado Law regarding hazing.
(See Appendices 1 & 2).

3. Conduct Appeal Board

- a. The Dean of Students, or their designee, shall appoint the Conduct Appeal Board members. Board members shall have no prior involvement with the case through SCCR. Students, staff, and faculty members are eligible to sit on the Appeal Board. The Board shall only consider information contained in the record of the case that is transmitted to the appeal officers; however, the Board may request clarification of the decision rendered by the resolution specialist. Any Board member who believes they are unable to be an objective participant for a given appeal is expected to remove themselves from the Board for that particular appeal.
- b. The Board shall consist of three members. One member of the Board will serve as the Lead Appeal Reader (LAR). The LAR must be a staff or faculty member and is responsible for management of the Board.
- c. The Board will review the responding student's appeal and decide on an action, as outlined in I.3.d, by a majority vote. The LAR will compose an Appeal Decision Letter to the responding student and submit it to SCCR. SCCR will provide a copy of the Appeal Decision Letter to the responding student.
- d. Actions Available to the Conduct Appeal Board
The Board shall have the authority to:
 - i. Affirm the initial decision.
 - ii. Find that improper procedures were used to the significant prejudice of the responding student. In this case, the Board can refer the case back to the resolution specialist with a recommendation on how to correct the procedures. The resolution specialist may, but is not required to, make a new decision on the case. The responding student may then submit another request for appeal if the responding student again has grounds to appeal after the new decision.
 - iii. Reduce or increase the resolution outcome, if the Board determines that the resolution outcome imposed was too severe or too lenient, given the nature of the violation and/or the circumstances. A resolution outcome should not be increased or decreased unless there is compelling justification to do so. Merely disagreeing with the decision of the resolution specialist is not a compelling justification.
 - iv. Find that (a) the responding student has presented information that would have been material to the outcome of the case, had the information been presented at the responding resolution meeting, and (b) the information was not known to the person appealing at the time of the original resolution meeting. In this event, the Board will refer the case back to the resolution specialist for reconsideration in light of the new information.

J. How Are Student Conduct Records Maintained and Protected? (Records & Refunds)

1. Record Retention

SCCR maintains student conduct records in accordance with federal and state law and CU Boulder policy. Disciplinary records are retained for five years after the date on the conduct decision letter, unless otherwise stated within the Student Code of Conduct.

In cases that involve serious threats of violence or expulsion, records are kept indefinitely. For incidents involving sex misconduct, protected class discrimination or harassment, or related retaliation, records are retained by the Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance. See <http://www.colorado.edu/institutionalequity/policies> for additional information.

a. Sealing of Disciplinary Record

SCCR typically expunges formal student conduct records 5 years after a final decision letter is provided to a responding student, except as outlined above. Disciplinary records may be sealed earlier by SCCR upon written petition from the responding student by completing and submitting the “Request to Seal Student Conduct Record” form found here: <https://www.colorado.edu/sccr/>.

For the purposes of this document, “sealed” means that files will be labeled as “sealed” and the record and underlying information in the record shall not be disclosed to external third parties by SCCR, except as required by law. For example, in case of a subpoena. However, these records will be maintained internally and may be utilized for CU Boulder disciplinary purposes until expunged, if applicable.

Factors to be considered in review of the request include:

- i. The responding student’s disciplinary record as a whole.
- ii. The responding student’s conduct after the violation.
- iii. The nature of the violation(s) including, but not limited to, the severity of the damage, injury, harm, or other impact resulting from the violation(s).
- iv. Whether all resolution outcomes have been completed as directed or not, including probation, loss of good standing, or suspension.
- v. The person’s responses to the request questions and other provided information.

The Director of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution, or their designee, will make the final determination if a request is approved.

Disciplinary records created less than 6 months from the date of the final decision letter shall not be sealed without compelling justification. The decision is final and is not appealable. Informal resolution, restorative justice, and policy reminders are not eligible for sealing since these cases are not disciplinary records.

Further violations of the Student Code of Conduct may result in an approved, sealed decision being reversed.

2. Request to Inspect Records

Responding students have the right to inspect and review education records to the extent that it includes information directly related to them. To do so, responding students must submit a request to inspect records form. SCCR will comply with a request for access within a reasonable time, not to exceed 45 days. Arrangement shall be made for the responding student to review their records in the presence of a staff member in SCCR. Please be advised that SCCR does not permit the copying of these records, does not allow the education records to be removed from our offices, does not allow unauthorized individuals to inspect education records, and the records may have certain information redacted pursuant to law. Please see SCCR website: <https://www.colorado.edu/sccr/>.

Notwithstanding the above, pursuant to F.3.b, prior to the resolution specialist’s decision in a formal resolution process, and if not already provided, responding students may request to know the names of any witness or reporting party, and have access to review and respond to the relevant information any such individuals have provided to resolution specialists.

3. Process Recordings

CU Boulder may audio record and/or video record any SCCR processes. The responding student must obtain permission from the resolution specialist to audio record and/or video record any resolution processes. Any audio or video record that is made by CU Boulder may be listened to by the responding student, but not copied, and will be kept for as long as described in Section J.1.

4. Disciplinary Holds

While a resolution process is pending, CU Boulder may place a disciplinary hold on the responding student's records. The disciplinary hold is honored by CU Boulder, including Continuing Education, and prohibits the responding student from registering for classes until a resolution process, including the review procedure if requested, has been completed.

A disciplinary hold may also be placed if a responding student fails to complete assigned resolution outcomes, which has the same impact on a responding student's records and registration as described above. The disciplinary hold will not be removed until all resolution outcomes are completed.

If a resolution process results in suspension, a disciplinary suspension hold will be placed on a responding student's record. A disciplinary suspension hold is honored by all University of Colorado campuses, including Continuing Education programs, and prohibits a responding student from being admitted to any of the campuses until the suspension period is over and the responding student has reapplied and has been readmitted.

If a resolution process results in expulsion, a disciplinary expulsion hold will be placed on a responding student's record. A disciplinary expulsion hold is honored by all University of Colorado campuses, including Continuing Education programs, prohibits a responding student from being admitted to any of the campuses, and from registering for classes. This hold is permanent and will not be removed from a student's record.

5. Refund Policy After Disciplinary Action

If a responding student is suspended or expelled from CU Boulder, assessment or refund of tuition and fees and/or Housing and Dining Services room and board costs are made in the same way as when a responding student voluntarily withdraws. See the Office of the Registrar (<http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/>, 303-492-6970, or Regent Administrative Center room 101, 20 UCB).

If a responding student has their Housing and Dining Services contract terminated, assessment or refund of room and board costs are made pursuant to the terms of the Housing and Dining Services contract.

The date used for determining the amount due will be the first day of the suspension, expulsion, and/or Housing and Dining Services contract termination, as determined by the resolution specialist.

6. Access and Disclosure of Conduct Information

Provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) govern access to a responding student's educational records and information from within those records. SCCR student information and records are available to CU Boulder officials or offices with a "legitimate educational interest" under FERPA.

Notations of disciplinary action on the responding student's transcript will be made only by SCCR. Expulsion will be permanently noted on the academic transcript. Suspension is noted on the transcript during the period of suspension and/or until the conditions for readmission have been met.

SCCR has discretion regarding whether to allow parent(s) who provide proof that a student is a dependent, as defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, to have access to their child's student information. A copy of the last federal income tax return listing the student as a dependent may serve as proof of dependency and may allow the parent(s) access to the student's conduct file without written consent of the responding student. In this case, parents may also have access to a conduct file. In addition, parent(s) may be notified if a responding student under 21 years of age is found responsible for a violation involving use or possession of alcohol or other drugs.

The Director of SCCR, or designee, may determine that a report to the police may be warranted based on reported information about alleged violations of policy. Staff will consider imminent risks to the health and safety of others when making this determination. In absence of health or safety emergency, disclosure of student information to third parties outside CU Boulder, other than parents, including, but not limited to, inquiries from employers, government agencies, news media, family, friends, or police agencies, except CU Boulder contractors with legitimate educational interest, generally requires appropriate written permission from the student. A student can grant permission to any third party by completing the Authorization for Release of Information form: <https://www.colorado.edu/sccr/>.

An exception to the foregoing is information that must be released pursuant to a lawfully issued subpoena or court order, and as otherwise required by law.

7. Redisclosure of Information

Individuals who are authorized to receive student information are prohibited from further disclosing/releasing such information, unless expressly permitted by law. Violation of this prohibition could result in alleged policy violations under this document or other appropriate action.

8. Disclosure of Outcomes to Victims of Crimes of Violence

If a person believes that they are a victim of a student's prohibited conduct under the Student Code of Conduct that may be considered a "crime of violence," as defined by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act and its regulations (FERPA), they can submit a written request to SCCR at studentconduct@colorado.edu asking to be informed of the outcome of the student's case.

Depending on the circumstances, a "crime of violence," as defined by FERPA, could potentially apply to violations of the following provisions of the Student Code of Conduct: E.1. Physical Misconduct; E.3. Threats to or Endangerment of Person(s); E.9. Abusive Conduct; E.17.a. Intentionally Causing a Fire; E.19. Property Damage; or E.23. Theft. SCCR will review each request and the circumstances of the case to determine if information is permissible under FERPA to be disclosed to the victim.

If SCCR determines that outcome information is permissible to be disclosed to the victim, FERPA authorizes SCCR to provide the name of the student who potentially violated the Student Code of Conduct, whether a violation was found, and any resolution outcomes imposed. If information cannot be disclosed, SCCR will notify the victim and provide a reason why that information is unable to be disclosed.

K. What Action Can SCCR Take in Addition to a Resolution Process? (Interim Measures & Directives)

The Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, the Dean of Students, the Director of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution, or any of their designee(s), have the authority to assign directives and interim measures to a responding student when, in the sole discretion of such official, the responding student's alleged prohibited conduct imposes the potential for continuing threat to persons or property or ongoing threat of disrupting academic progress.

• No Contact Directive

The Director of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution, or their designee, has discretion at any point during a resolution process, formal or informal, to assign a no contact directive, including after a decision has been made, regardless of finding. When a responding student is issued a no contact directive, the responding student may request to meet with a resolution specialist to discuss the factors of the no contact directive or to request that SCCR lift the no contact directive.

These directives will remain in effect for the duration of a resolution process and until otherwise notified by the Director of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution or their designee.

- a. If a responding student is assigned a no contact directive, they are prohibited from having any contact with the person(s) as described in the notice. Contact includes, but is not limited to, direct contact, and all forms of communication, extending to email, social media sites, phone, texting, or any contact initiated through a third party.
- b. Failure to abide by the no contact directive may result in the resolution specialist issuing a Resolution Meeting Notice for an alleged violation of E.13 and subject the responding student to resolution outcomes. Any retaliatory contact directed toward any person connected to a resolution process is prohibited as described in E.16, may result in the resolution specialist issuing a Resolution Meeting Notice and subject the responding student to resolution outcomes.

2. Interim Suspension

Prior to final resolution of a resolution process, the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, the Dean of Students, the Director of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution, or any of their designee(s), have the authority to interim suspend a responding student when, in the sole discretion of such official, the responding student's alleged prohibited conduct imposes the potential for continuing threat to persons or property or ongoing threat of disrupting academic progress.

Interim suspension may include an immediate, temporary:

- i. prohibition for the responding student to attend any classes and any other CU Boulder activity or program; and
- ii. exclusion from entering any CU Boulder property, in absence of prior permission or qualification from the Director of SCCR, or designee.

During any time that a responding student is excluded from CU Boulder property, the responding student may only enter CU Boulder property for the limited periods and specific purposes prior authorized by the designated official. Violation of this prohibition may result in further resolution process and/or law enforcement action.

In the case of an interim suspension, the responding student will be provided oral (with written notice to follow) or written notice of the alleged prohibited conduct and the opportunity to meet as soon as possible (but not to exceed 10 business days) with the Director of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution, or designee, to provide an opportunity for the responding student to be heard and respond to the interim suspension decision so that the Director of SCCR, or designee, may determine if the interim suspension will continue based on the responding student's response and other known, relevant information at the time. It is the responsibility of the responding student to schedule the meeting in the applicable time frame, if requested.

After notice and opportunity to be heard, the Director of SCCR, or designee, may decide to lift the interim suspension, modify the interim suspension, or continue the interim suspension, potentially until the resolution specialist has made final findings and imposed a resolution outcome, if applicable.

3. Exclusion

2. A student who is enrolled in a state supported institution of higher education and who is convicted of a riot offense shall be immediately suspended from the institution upon the institution’s notification of such conviction for a period of twelve months following the date of conviction; except that if a student has been suspended prior to the date of conviction by the state supported institution of higher education for the same riot activity, the twelve month suspension shall run from the start of the suspension imposed by the institution.

4. a. The court in each judicial district shall report to the Colorado commission on higher education the name of any person who is convicted in the judicial district of a riot offense.
b. The Colorado commission on higher education shall make the conviction reports received pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) available to all state supported institutions of higher education with the notification that the persons included in the conviction reports are subject to the provisions of this section and that the state supported institution of higher education in which any of such persons are enrolled shall consider appropriate disciplinary action against the student.

 - ii. Arming rioters, as described in section 18-9-103, C.R.S.;
 - iii. Engaging in a riot, as described in section 18-9-104, C.R.S.

APPENDIX 2: Colorado Law Regarding Hazing

As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

- a. "Hazing" means any activity by which a person recklessly endangers the health or safety of or causes a risk of bodily injury to an individual for purposes of initiation or admission into or affiliation with any student organization; except that "hazing" does not include customary athletic events or other similar contests or competitions, or authorized training activities conducted by members of the armed forces of the state of Colorado or the United States.
- b. "Hazing" includes but is not limited to:
 - i. Forced and prolonged physical activity;
 - ii. Forced consumption of any food, beverage, medication or controlled substance, whether or not prescribed, in excess of the usual amounts for human consumption or forced consumption of any substance not generally intended for human consumption;
 - iii. Prolonged deprivation of sleep, food, or drink.

APPENDIX 3: Amnesty Provision

The health and safety of students are the primary concerns of CU Boulder. To this end, we have instituted an "Amnesty" policy. The purpose of this policy is to facilitate an educational and safety-focused response to qualifying incidents rather than a disciplinary consequence. This provision only governs the application of CU Boulder's Student Code of Conduct and has no status in other jurisdictions such as local or state courts. The resolution specialist may choose to invoke the Amnesty Provision at any point in the process, including before a student is alleged to have violated policy. Based on the totality of the incident, the resolution specialist will make the final determination as to the applicability of this provision and reserves the right to reduce resolution outcomes or remove the alleged policy violation. When deciding to invoke the Amnesty Policy, resolution specialists will consider factors including, but not limited to, proactivity in calling for help, cooperation with CU Boulder staff, emergency staff, responsibility taking, and actions made in good faith. The Amnesty policy does not limit the authority of law enforcement personnel or CU Boulder staff to act as required at the time of an alleged violation of CU Boulder policies or state or local laws.

1. Scenarios in which Amnesty May Apply

a. Alcohol and Drug Related Emergencies

Whenever a student assists an intoxicated individual in procuring the appropriate assistance as determined by SCCR, neither the intoxicated individual nor the individual(s) who assists will be subject to the formal resolution process with respect to the alcohol, drug, or infectious disease policy. This provision does not preclude disciplinary action regarding other violations of CU Boulder standards, such as theft, sex harassment/assault, vandalism, harassment, or other prohibited conduct. CU Boulder of Colorado Boulder Police Department and City of Boulder Police Department will assist those individuals whose judgment or health is severely affected due to alcohol or drug use or infectious disease by facilitating transport to the Mental Health Partners Withdrawal and TRT programs, Boulder Community Hospital, Wardenburg Health Center, or by taking other protective measures. Appropriate assistance can be local or state police, community safety officer, residence life staff, or medical professionals. If calling to help in an alcohol or drug related emergency, the reporting party must remain with the intoxicated student and cooperate with staff in obtaining assistance.

b. Victims

CU Boulder provides amnesty to victims of violations of policy who may be hesitant to report the incident to CU Boulder because they fear that they themselves may be accused of Student Code of Conduct violations at the time of the incident. Victims who engage in minor Student Code of Conduct violations, such as underage drinking or minor violation of E.27, will not be subject to the formal resolution process.

c. Witnesses to Conduct Code Violations

Students who are engaged in minor violations, such as underage drinking or violations of E.27, but who cooperate with CU Boulder in providing information related to serious violations by others, while they engaged in those minor violations, will be provided amnesty for their minor violations. Educational options may be explored, but the reporting student will not be subject to the formal resolution process.

d. Social Gatherings in Violation of Law

Whenever a student calls for appropriate assistance in ending large social gatherings in their homes, neither the individual who called for assistance nor other tenants who are present or on the lease will be subject to the formal resolution process with respect to the E.7 or E.27 violation pertaining to the gathering. Resolution of the incident under the Amnesty provision is contingent upon all tenants at the address completing a restorative justice process with SCCR. This provision does not prevent disciplinary action regarding other violations of CU Boulder standards, such as theft, sexual harassment/assault, vandalism, harassment, or other prohibited conduct, as determined by SCCR. The City of Boulder Police Department and CU Boulder of Colorado Police Department will assist those individuals in ending the social gathering. Appropriate assistance includes law enforcement. If calling to help to end a social gathering, the reporting party must remain at the social gathering and cooperate with law enforcement in obtaining assistance.

2. Additional Conditions of the Amnesty Policy

In order for this policy to apply:

- a. The student must agree to a timely conversation with a SCCR or Housing and Dining Services Residence Life staff member, as applicable.
- b. If it is determined by the resolution specialist that education activities, assessment, and/or treatment are necessary to address the concern for student health and safety, students will be required to pursue and complete such intervention(s).

Serious or repeated incidents will prompt higher level educational requirements. Furthermore, students that deliberately or repeatedly violate the Code of Conduct, as determined by SCCR, may be ineligible for the Amnesty policy.

Failure to complete recommended follow-up may also result in loss of eligibility for Amnesty and in disciplinary action.

3. If the Amnesty policy is invoked by SCCR:

- a. CU Boulder will:
 - i. review the facts of the incident;
 - ii. initiate a meeting with students involved; and
 - iii. discuss/assign educational resolution outcomes.
- b. CU Boulder will not:
 - i. assign probation, loss of good standing, suspension, or expulsion; or
 - ii. charge an adjudication fee for this incident.

APPENDIX 4: Student Infectious Disease Mitigation

1. Purpose and scope of Student Conduct Code E.27:

- a. The health and safety of students are the primary concerns of CU Boulder. To this end, CU Boulder has instituted expectations for students pertaining to the mitigation of the spread of infectious disease. CU Boulder added section E.27, which outlines prohibited conduct for students, to provide the structures necessary to help maintain an in-person academic experience, while mitigating the contraction and spread of infectious disease.
- b. The E.27 provision applies to all CU Boulder students as defined in M.14 of the Student Code of Conduct.

- c. The E.27 provision is based off of recommendations and requirements found in public health orders previously issued from the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment and Boulder County Public Health. They are also based off of University of Colorado directives and requirements.
2. Reasonable Accommodations to section E.27 of this code:
- a. If a student is requesting accommodations due to a disability in order to comply with all or parts of this policy, they must contact Disability Services at dsinfo@Colorado.edu. Disability Services will go through the applicable accommodation process and provide the student with an accommodations letter, if appropriate.
 - b. If a student is requesting an accommodation due to religion or creed in order to comply with all or parts of this policy, they must contact the Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance at cureport@colorado.edu.

APPENDIX 5: Student Conduct Policy and Marijuana

Use or possession of marijuana, including medical marijuana, or recreational marijuana used or possessed by individuals who are at least 21 years of age, in accordance with Colorado law, is strictly prohibited on campus.

Federal law, including the Drug Free Schools Act, continues to prohibit marijuana. Thus, marijuana use or possession, even if in compliance with state law, is prohibited by CU Boulder.
