

COSMIC CASINO

The Space Minor is constantly working to create fun, new events all the time. This past fall, the Space Minor ambassador committee created various activities with the semester ending in our Cosmic Casino event. The Cosmic Casino was a great success with over a hundred people in attendance. Attendees played poker, black jack, and roulette. Various prizes were handed out throughout the night, and four lucky students even won $500 Scholarships during the event. Congrats to Varun Seth, Alison Garscadden, Luke Charbonneau and Jack Dinkel.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Feb 7th - CU's Instrument for Detecting Biomolecules at Jupiter's Moon, Europa

Feb 9th - Lego Moments in Space
deadline

Feb 27th-28th - Mae Jemison visits

April 21st – 2nd Annual Moonwalk!

New Space Minor T-Shirt Design.

Want a Space Minor T-shirt?

Look for various Space Minor Events that might have free T-shirt give-aways.

CHEWBACCA CHALLENGE

Along with the Cosmic Casino, the ambassadors set out to do a campus wide Chewbacca Challenge. Chewbacca was seen all over campus and became a star on social media. One lucky winner, won a $500 scholarship as part of the challenge. Congratulations to our winner of the Chewbacca Challenge, Nathaniel Hetzel!

CU is a hub of space activity, and along with the Space Minor, CU is always putting on great events; distinguished speakers discussing cutting-edge asteroid research and exploration, live talks at Fiske planetarium, and interesting visitors. Please note that astronaut and physician Mae Jemison will be on campus February 27th. If you want a great quick resource to find out about all space events going on, especially space minor events, be sure to check out the Space Minor google calendar!

You can find the calendar here as well as under the 'News & Events' tab on the Space Minor website.

VOLUNTEER

Volunteers for upcoming events are always needed. If you'd like to volunteer for a specific Space Minor event, or just overall for the Space Minor, please email spaceminor@colorado.edu

JOB TIP

Before classes become really busy and exams sneak up, it's worthwhile to look around at companies you are interested in applying for and noting important dates in your calendar so you don't lose track of application due dates. Be sure to spend this down time making sure your resume is ready to go. This will help to facilitate quicker application submissions.

CONNECT WITH THE SPACE MINOR!

Spaceminor@colorado.edu

CUspacebuff

CU Space Minor

@CUspacebuff

Colorado.edu/spaceminor

Space Minor

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER