

History 4304 The Cosmos in Premodern Mediterranean Societies

Prof. Céline Dauverd (History)

Through a chronological investigation of ideas about the cosmos in ancient Mediterranean societies, this course communicates how ancient and premodern people thought about, described, and made space part of their daily lives. It will expose students to primary sources such as hieroglyphs, paintings, charts, objects, poems, lyrics & maps. By doing so students will also develop knowledge about ancient societies. The course includes lectures, student skit presentations, learning cells, a field trip & one research project.