Guide for writing peer classroom observation letters in Math [DRAFT]

When writing your peer classroom observation letter, please address the following items¹ (if they are relevant). To provide feedback on this guide, please respond to the questions on the 2nd page and return to Nat Thiem.

Review of syllabus and other course materials:
- Did the syllabus clearly describe expectations, requirements, and assessments for the course?

Technical aspects/classroom mechanics:
- Resources. Resources selected for the class (e.g., board work, slides, handouts, etc.) were educationally valuable, well executed, and beneficial for the students.
- Organized. The instructor’s activities were well organized, structured, and made good use of time.
- Accuracy. Instructor’s written and spoken content information was accurate and appropriately thorough (e.g. information written on board, in hand-outs).
- Active Learning (if applicable). The instructor employed active learning strategies appropriate for the size and structure of the class, and in line with departmental expectations.

What the instructor was doing/efforts made to engage students:
- Content. The instructor chose examples and details that were appropriate and worthwhile for helping students learn the content in this course.
- Motivation. The instructor provided context and made clear attempts to point out the relevance of the material, e.g., by connecting it to other subjects, giving examples, real world applications, etc.
- Depth. The instructor delivered content and answered questions in a way that was consistent with deep knowledge of the subject.
- Reasoning. The instructor highlighted the ideas behind the content and encouraged students to increase their reasoning ability.

What the students were doing/student engagement:
- Engagement. Students appeared to be on task throughout the class and engaged in learning.
- Participation. Many of the students in the class were contributing their voice to discussion; students appeared comfortable speaking up in class, both to each other and to the instructor.
- Informal Assessment. Students engaged with attempts by the instructor to gauge student understanding (e.g., by answering questions).

Additional considerations:
- Observations of what the instructor did well.
- Suggestions for the instructor to improve their teaching.
- Comments on your interactions with the instructor.
