

dear dearest dearest dearest dearest

Saturday and

I've got a PBR open

(dearest + )

dearest dearest dearest dearest
dearest dearest dearest dearest
dearest dearest dearest dearest
dearest dearest dearest dearest

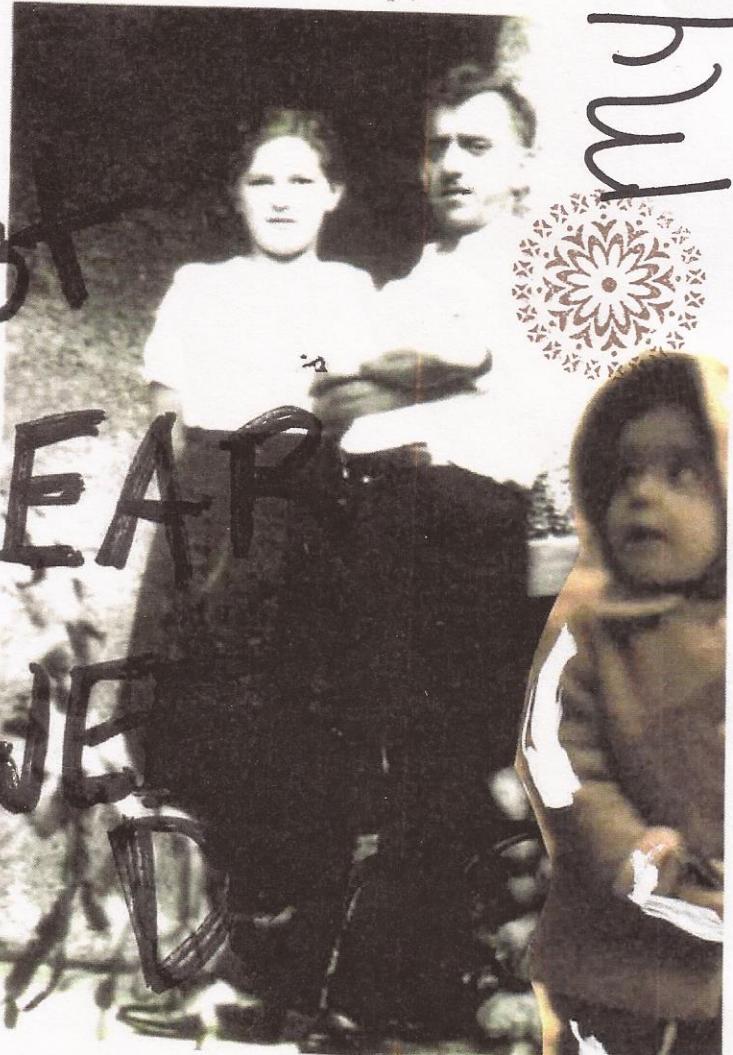

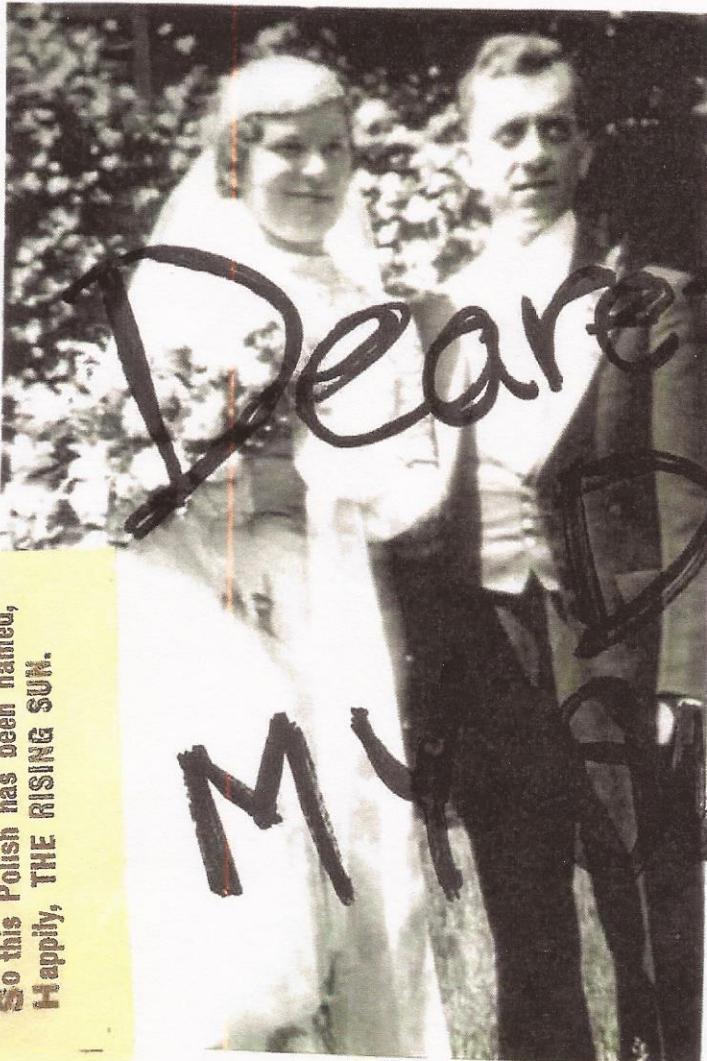

My dear my dear my dear

MY DEAR

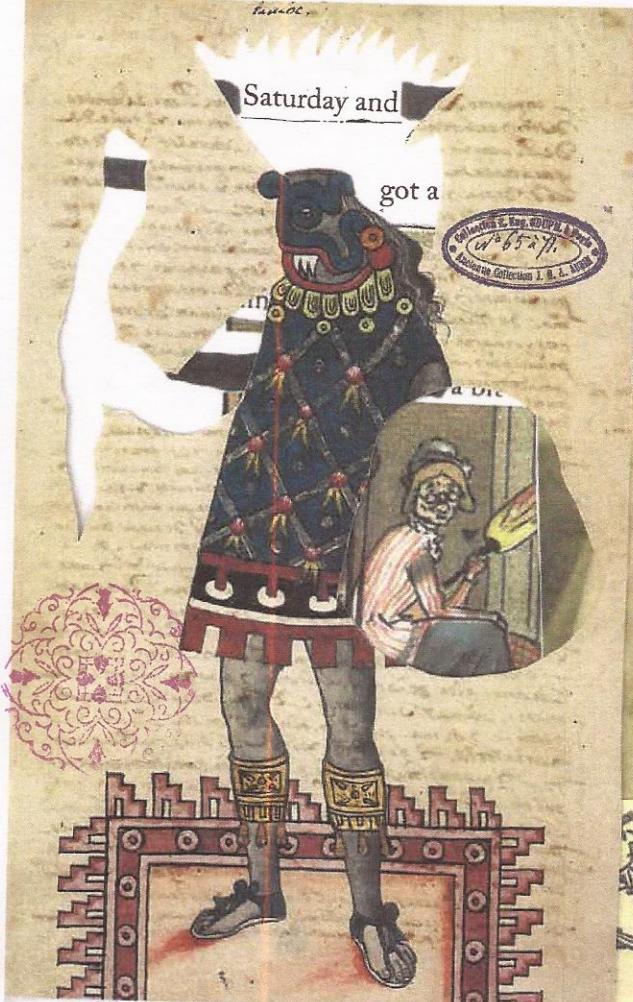

My Dear

my dear

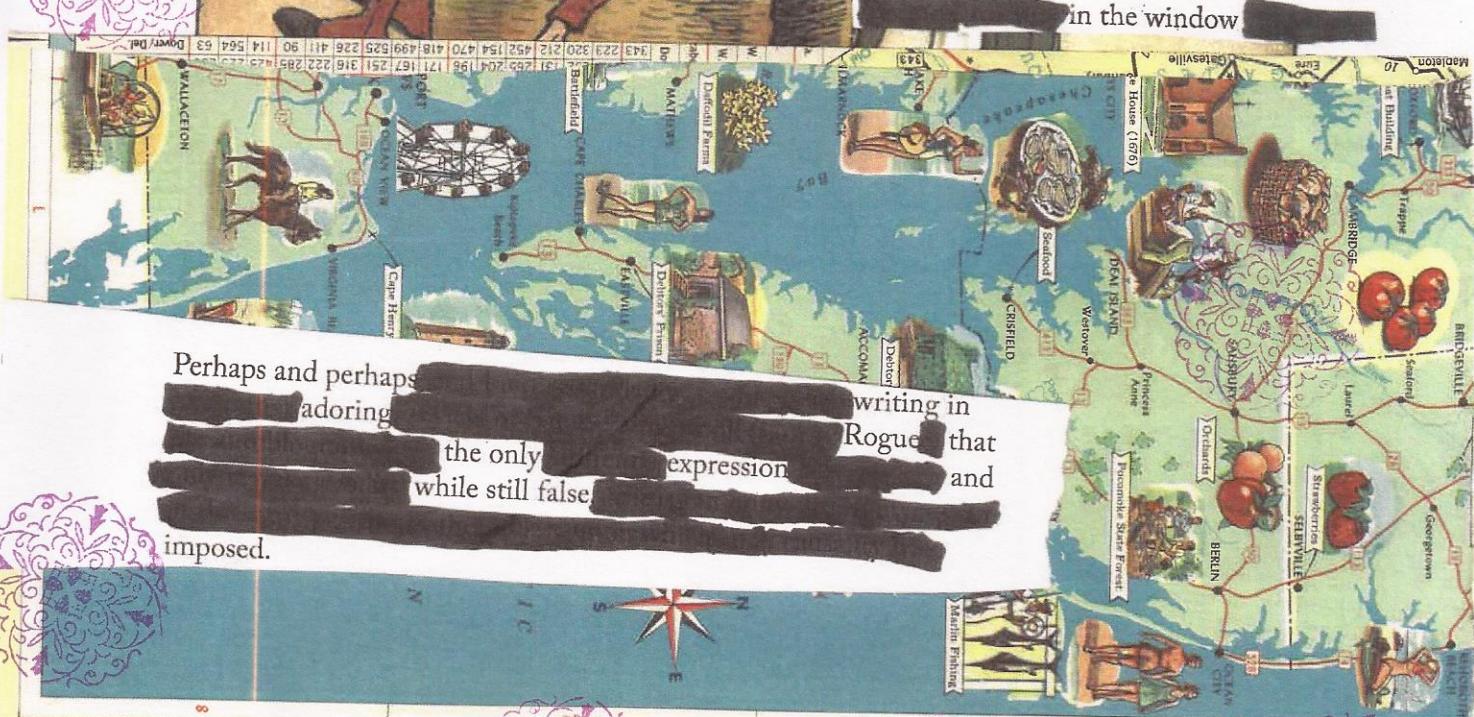

So this Polish has been named,
Happily, THE RISING SUN.

MY DEAR dear my dear
dear of mine MY DEAR my dear

The image shows a vertical page from a children's book. On the left side, there is a yellow vertical bar. The rest of the page contains the word "dearie" written in different styles. At the top, it appears in a large, cursive, black font. Below that, a smaller, stylized version of the same word is written. To the right of these, the letters "D", "e", "a", "r", "i", and "e" are written individually in a large, black, rounded font. At the bottom, the word "dearie" is written again in a smaller, cursive, black font. A decorative pink circular stamp with a floral or mandala-like pattern is positioned near the bottom center of the page.

Perhaps and perhaps adoring [REDACTED] writing in the only [REDACTED] Rogue [REDACTED] that while still false, [REDACTED] and imposed.